DONAHEY ASKED TO HOLD UP APPOINTMENT

GOVERNOR ASKED TO AWAIT REVELATIONS COMING FROM AKRON

Deplorable Condition At
Normal School Is Charged

Columbus, Feb. 5.—Promising "startling revelations" John B. Hanan, president of the Akron board of education in a telegram made public by Gov. Donahey today asked the governor to withhold appointment of a new president for Kent State Normal College pending investigation of charges against the Kent board of trustees.

The telegram received by the Governor Wednesday but withheld until today said:

"In view of startling revelations of deplorable condition on the board of trustees of the Kent Normal School which will be placed in your hands in a few hours, I implore you to use your influence to hold up any appointment of a new president until you have reviewed the important evidence."

The governor said he had received no further communication despite the fact the telegram was received Wednesday.

Dr. John McGilvrey was ousted recently as president of Kent. The board of trustees charged him with absconding with the school without authority and with promoting an "on to Europe" tour for students, which was unauthorized.

Since Dr. McGilvrey's dismissal T. Howard Winters has been acting president of the institution.

GROGER SHOT FOUR TIMES BY WOMAN

Urbana, O., Feb. 5.—Declaring he had threatened her with black mail, Mrs. Emma Goodbar, 34, of Lima, walked into the Loverde Grocery store here and shot Lawrence Loverde, 28, the proprietor, four times. Loverde is reported dying.

Mrs. Goodbar was taken into custody as she walked from the store clasp a pistol in her hand. In a statement to police she declared she and Loverde had been keeping company for two years.

She admitted, according to police that she is married, that her husband lives in Lima and that they have a son six years old.

Loverde was taken to a hospital. Physicians said he could not live.

EUROPE WARM AS STATES SHIVER

Spring Modes Blossom
In Warm Sun Of
Riviera

London, Feb. 5.—While America's eastern coast today labored with the aftermath of its worst winter storm, Europe was indulging in weather akin to spring.

London was foggy and some rain fell while the thermometer stood at 43.

Paris reported drizzly weather but even warmer than London, for its thermometers registered 54.

Brussels was rainy with a temperature of 51.

Berlin and Geneva reported foggy conditions with the temperature at the former city 45 and in the latter 40.

Monte Carlo basked in the sun of the Riviera and spring modes blossomed in the sixty degree warmth. Sofia, Cairo, Rome and Madrid reported cloudiness with temperatures ranging between 43 and 55.

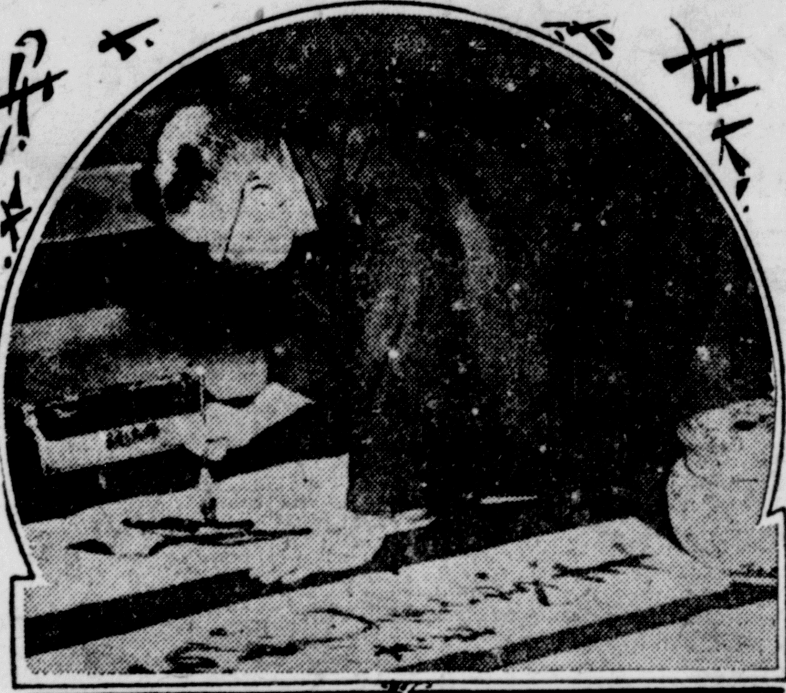

NUN IS AWARDED PRIZE FOR HYMN

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Sister Mary of the Angels, a Chicago nun, has won the international contest for the text of an official hymn to be sung by the one-million pilgrims to the twenty-eighth International Eucharistic congress.

"The Nation's Consecration" is the title of the winning hymn, selected from more than 3,000 entries received from all over the world. A similar contest for music for Sister Mary's hymn was announced today. Entries close March 5.

Farm Problems

Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—Described as one of the most successful sessions in the history of Buckeye farming, annual farm week at Ohio State University, drew to a close today.

Principal events of the day were announcement of the honor roll of successful Ohio Farmers, the awarding of newspaper prizes to members of the Buckeye Press Association and

WILL USE PRESSURE TO FORCE TAX BILL

Washington, Feb. 5.—Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, in charge of the $352,000,000 federal tax reduction bill, is prepared to begin tonight to apply the pressure of night sessions on opponents if no more progress is made on the bill today than yesterday.

"I should prefer not to resort to night sessions, but I promised the country the bill would be passed by the senate not later than Feb. 10," said Smoot. "That is next Wednesday, leaving only five working days, including today."

Smoot expects the fight over publicity of income tax returns to be over before recess is taken tonight, which would leave only one highly controversial point for disposition—inheritance and gift tax repeal or retention.

WOMAN IN PRISON SUED FOR DIVORCE

Springfield, O., Feb. 5.—Carey Strome, of New Carlisle has sued his wife, Mrs. Birdie Strome, 49, now serving a life sentence at Marysville, for the murder of her step-daughter, Esta, for divorce.

The petition is based on the plea that Mrs. Strome is in a penal institution facing life imprisonment.

Mrs. Strome was taken to Marysville Reformatory, Tuesday. She was convicted of administering strychnine to Esta.

WOMEN ORGANIZING TO OPPOSE WARD AND NATIONAL COMBINES

Meetings of Federated Societies To Take Up
War On Move

Columbus, Feb. 5.—Statewide rebellion of Ohio housewives against the two billion dollar Ward and National Food Products mergers in Wall Street, is imminent according to advices received from various sections to the United Press today.

First opposition to the mergers, which threatened to become general was expressed in Cleveland by Mrs. Evelyn F. Stires, vice president of the Cleveland Federated Women's Clubs, who denounced the mergers as "foul and a menace to the country."

From Miss Elizabeth E. McGee, executive secretary of the Consumers League of Ohio, now in session in Cleveland, came a similar protest.

The league will discuss the mergers sometime today, with a view of enlisting housewives in a state-wide campaign on protest.

Early reports from the Youngstown area, said the women there were preparing to join the anti-merger movement and will appeal to the Ohio Housewives League for support.

The Northwestern Conference of Parents-Teachers, meeting in Canton next Friday will be asked to oppose the mergers.

STATE WILL HELP VICTIMS FAMILIES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 5.—The families of the nineteen men killed in the explosion at the Morning mine of the Pittsburgh Terminal Company will receive allotments from the state with little delay, it was announced today as the compensation board began its session.

Thirty one children were left fatherless by the blast.

More than twenty members of the rescue teams were overcome by black-damp and forced to leave the mine during the night.

They reported flames had gained headway and only the sealing of the well would smother the fire.

The bodies of sixteen men are still entombed in mine No. 4.

SPANISH FLYER TO COMPLETE JOURNEY

Rio De Janeiro Feb. 5.—Commander Ramon Franco, Spanish trans-Atlantic flier, decided today to hop off Tuesday on the final leg of his Spain-Buenos Aires flight.

He will spend Tuesday night in Montevideo, Uruguay—only an hour's flight from the Argentinean capital and then proceed Wednesday to his goal where a tremendous reception will be accorded him.

DEATH OF GRANDMOTHER NOT NEEDED AS EXCUSE FROM JURY DUTY OLD LAW REVEALS

Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—The Ohio businessman who pleaded his "grandmother was dead," and offered other equally transparent alibis when he wanted to avoid jury service, need no longer resort to antique broadsides.

All he needs do is become a "contributing member" of the Ohio National guard. "This was discovered today in a perusal of state military code which specifies that men enlisting as contributing members of the national guard are automatically dismissed from jury service. By payment of a $5 enlistment fee, the prospective jury can remove himself from

INVESTIGATION OF JURY TAMPERING TO START NEXT MONDAY

Killits Charges Jury But
Witnesses Are Not
Summoned

(By United Press)
Cleveland, Feb. 5.—Although completely organized the federal grand jury which will investigate charges of jury tampering in connection with the trials of Josiah Kirby, former head of the Cleveland Discount Co., will not begin hearing evidence until Monday.

Monday was spent in seating the grand jury and it was expected the first 300 witnesses called in the inquiry would be heard, but federal Judge John M. Killits demurred, ordering consideration of evidence begin Monday.

The first witnesses called Monday will be the venire of Kirby's first federal trial. The jury drawn from this panel failed to agree. Following these, members of the second venire, the jury from which convicted Kirby, will be summoned.

In his charge to the grand jurors, Judge Killits said six men whose names were known to the government, merited indictment. As the inquiry progresses, he said, others may be implicated.

Four men, including two attorneys, have been arrested in connection with the inquiry. A woman also is under bond as a material witness.

Kirby meanwhile is in jail awaiting sentence on charges of using the mails to defraud.

"Kirby will not be sentenced until this investigation, is out of the way," Judge Killits declared.

DROP GAYETY FOR MOURNING VEIL

Cinema Stars Revel And
Then Pay Tribute
Dead

Hollywood, Calif., Feb. 5.—All night long Hollywood's film colony danced and made merry at the annual ball of the "Wampas"—the press agents who make stars by their tricks or their artistry.

Then with hardly more than time to exchange the tinsel gaiety for the black of mourning, filmdom made a final pilgrimage to the bier of Barbara La Marr and saw the "girl who was too beautiful to live" buried in the shadow of the studios.

Few such evenings of gaiety have been seen as was that at the "Wampas Ball" and few such solemn tributes have been paid here as those given at the funeral of Miss La Marr who died Saturday.

Friends from the studios so crowded the little chapel that there was no room for the general public—those who had admired Miss La Marr not in the flesh but as a shadow on the screen.

Miss La Marr rested on a gold-embroidered velvet bier.

In her hand was a single red rose from a little girl admirer and with it a note which read:

"To my beautiful lady, Barbara whom I longed to meet. May my life be as lovely and unselfish as yours."

On her breast were orchids from Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks.

The funeral services were brief and simple as had been planned by Miss La Marr before she died. A prayer was said and the Christian Science burial service read. A girl, who asked that she be known "just as a girl friend of Barbara's" sang "Eternity."

Bert Lytell, Alfred Green, Tom Gallery, Henry Hathaway and Victor R. D. Knickerbocker, all of Hollywood's film colony acted as pallbearers.

ONE POLICE FORCE SEEKS OTHER

Marshal Seeking Secret
Deputies In Village

Newburgh Heights, Ohio, Feb. 5.—Two separate and distinct police forces are trailing down Newburgh's crooks, etc., but Mayor John C. Tegg today could only find one, so he ordered force No. 1, consisting of Marshal Albert Horazdovsky to start a still hunt for force No. 2.

Thus far Mayor Tegg's investigation has disclosed he has a police force of eighty men but all the eighty appear to be secret service operatives, so secret in fact, that Tegg doesn't know who they are and what is more, he can't find out.

"There's only one way to identify these secret police," Tegg said. "They've all got deputy marshal badges issued by the last administration."

BEER AND WINE TO SEEK OFFICE

Candidates With Wet
Names On Illinois
Ballot

Chicago, Feb. 5.—"Mr. Beer" and "Mr. Wine" will run for congressmen at large from Illinois if a plan proposed by Chicago Democrats is carried out.

Two candidates with the names of "Beer" and "Wine" actually are preparing to enter the congressional race. A. J. Cormack, president of the county board and a leading Democratic politician disclosed. He declined to give the full names of the prospective candidates.

"Candidates with such popular names are sure winners in Illinois," Cormack said. "We have investigated these men and found them honest and secure."

Chicago's telephone book lists seven men by the name of "Beer" and four "Mr. Wines."

Rio De Janeiro, Feb. 5.—Mineral waters and crackers furnished Commander Ramon Franco, Spanish airman, his sole maintenance in his Pernambuco-Rio De Janeiro hop, he revealed today.

DISASTER FOLLOWS BLIZZARD THAT HIT EASTERN SEABOARD

Shipping Imperilled As Storm Finally Spends
Fury

(By United Press)
New York, Feb. 5.—The terrific storm which for twenty-four hours whipped the eastern seaboard from Georgia to Maine, is passing out to sea, leaving in its wake death and distress.

Although the fury of the blizzard is spent, coastal shipping still is imperilled, hundreds of cities and villages are blanketed with snow, and continued cold causes acute discomfort along the north Atlantic. Close to thirty deaths are attributed to the storm. Of these eight came at sea when towering waves assailed three helpless barges. Nine persons died from accident and exposure in the metropolitan area and several others in nearby districts.

Eight workmen died and eleven were injured when a factory building at New Britain, Conn., collapsed from the weight of snow on its roof.

Several epics of the sea were written as coast guards and volunteers rescued those aboard craft left to the mercy of the waves.

Three men were snatched from death a moment before a barge gave way at Asbury Park, N. J., two of them only to die on the way to shore.

After an hour-long fight eight officers and men were taken from the schooner Kenwood which foundered with a heavy load of lumber near Boston.

Along the coast from New Jersey to Maine, many vessels have weighed anchor and are riding out the storm. The Pollock rip lightship in Nanucket Sound is reported ashore on Berles Land. No further distress signal was received at Halifax from the rudderless Puruss freighter. Manchester Producer which hourly awaits the arrival of the steamer Comino, far out in the Atlantic.

Throughout Pennsylvania and New York State heavy snows are reported. Sixteen inches of snow fell at Scranton, adding to the distress of the region affected by the anthracite strike.

TWELVE ADRIFT ON WATER LOGGED SHIP

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—Within fifty miles of this port, the water logged lumber schooner Ecola in tow of the oil tanker Captain A. F. Lucas parted its hawser today and is lost in heavy seas.

Advice that the Ecola with twelve men and one woman aboard, broke loose just when its difficulties of the week seemed ended, was radioed to the Federal Telegraph Co., here from the Lucas.

The seagoing tug the Sea Ranger which rushed to the Ecola's assistance Tuesday, also is cruising around with the Captain of the Lucas seeking the lost schooner. A heavy fog is hampering the search.

EIGHT KILLED WHEN ROOF COLLAPSES

New Britain, Conn., Feb. 5.—Crushed in the ruins where the roof of the foundry of the North and Judd Mfg. Co., collapsed from the weight of snow on it, eight men were dead today and eleven were in the New Britain General Hospital, several seriously injured and one critically injured.

One other workman, who was in the building at the time of the crash and who had been reported missing was found today assisting rescuers who had dug through the night searching for him.

VILLAGE SUFFERS DISASTROUS FIRE

Moscow, Ohio, Feb. 5.—The valor of the citizens here and farmers from the surrounding countryside, probably saved Moscow from destruction by fire during the night.

Before their efforts were rewarded, the plant of the R. F. Johnson Colored Card Company, was destroyed with an estimated loss of $100,000 leaving sixty persons jobless. The blaze originated in a closet under a stairway. Volunteers under Mayor Harry Shriver, fought the flames and were soon joined by several farmers, who, seeing the blaze from their farms, hastened to town.

COLORED SHOES FOR THE MALE FLAPPERS

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Male flappers will go in for colored shades this spring with a nude shade taking first honors, shoe dealers here announced. The nude shade has been brought out in California and Florida and by spring will have invaded the rest of the country, the dealers claim.

Outing shoes trimmed in red and green also will be in vogue, according to the forecast.

WEALTHY FROM REALTY DEAL, FORMER GREENE COUNTY WOMAN SPURNS SILKS

Although she won a fortune of $100,000 in speculation in Florida real estate, Mrs. Jessie Barber Dawes, formerly of Cedarville and Springfield, will continue her work as head of the domestic science department of the Malden, Mass., public schools.

Eighteen months ago Mrs. Dawes and her husband, Dr. P. E. Dawes, Boston dentist, who she married twelve years ago, each bought six lots with $11,000 which she had saved from her earnings as teacher and secretary. The new Miami-Biltmore Hotel was constructed on one side of these lots and the $15,000,000 University of Miami buildings were built nearby.

Millionaires have tried to buy Mrs. Dawes' holdings but she held the land until this week when she closed a deal by telegraph selling the land for approximately $100,000 profit. Her husband has been equally successful and the couple have drawn wills by which their property will pass at their deaths to the Salvation Army for a girls' home to be built near Boston.

Mrs. Dawes was born Jessie Barber in Cedarville and with her family went to Springfield in 1893. She graduated from Wittenberg College, on the shores of Massachusetts Bay. She arises at 6 o'clock, prepares breakfast, and makes the journey of fourteen miles by trolley to Malden to be on hand at the opening of high school at 8 o'clock. She also teaches three nights a week in the Malden evening schools. Through her savings and investments she also owns real estate at Nantucket Beach, Wollaston, Quincy and Bryantville, Mass. Starting their married life a dozen years ago with a combined capital of $10,000 as a result of combined savings, Dr. and Mrs. Dawes now have acquired a fortune.

"No silk stockings for me," Mrs. Dawes says, in spite of her wealth. "I never owned a pair and don't want to. I like hard work. I have missed only three days from my teaching in my nineteen years in New England and that was when my mother died. I shall continue to teach at least until the close of the present school year. As to the future I want to own an island in Miami harbor and perhaps I shall anyway. I'm going to Miami as soon as school closes, but I shall continue to make my home in Wollaston."

Dr. Dawes is prominent as a yachtsman and his speedboat, "Letha," is one of the fastest on the coast. He is a past president of the Yacht Racing Union of New England. Mrs. Dawes taught school in New York, Revere and Bingham, Mass., before going to Malden.

SIX SAXOPHONES TO FEATURE SHOW HERE

Saxophone sextet will be another interlude of "The Lady in Blue," American Legion musical comedy to be presented at City Hall Theater, February 17 and 18. Sextette will be composed of Guy Pillsbury, Don Weaver, Don Currie, Victor Weaver, Herbert Wheeler and Vernon Hickman.

Nightly rehearsals of the show cast are held at American Legion headquarters, Kingsbury Building. Fifty people will take part in the show, including principals and choruses. Scenery for the show is being designed by George Swartz.

Broadcasting scene, one of the main features of the show, was arranged and is being directed by John Sutton and Robert Owens. Costumes are in charge of Mrs. Winifred Mason and Miss Fern Jack will direct music for the piece.

John Edwards, of Lancaster, Pa., dreamed he was in swimming and dived from the foot of his bed through a pane of glass to a porch roof, rolling to the ground where he woke up, only only slightly hurt.

Justice Joseph Hays, of Fort Madison, Iowa, has announced that he will marry any couple for two dollars, or if they haven't the cash, for two bushels of corn.

Instead of helping the sale of soft drinks prohibition has hurt the "pop" manufacturers, according to a speaker at a convention in Atlantic City.

Thomas Collins, of New York, was very tired and sleepy and a bed in a furniture store window was so tempting that he broke the window, climbed in and went to sleep.

Charley Chaplin has been approached by the Russian Soviet's movie monopoly to play in a picture based on Gogol's "The Overcoat," which might enable him to immortalize that garment as he has shoes.

YOUTH "BUMS" TRIP FROM FLORIDA TO MOTHER IN NEWARK

Basil Underwood, 14, intercepted by Railroad Police Lieutenant Bussmyer on an eastbound Pennsylvania freight train Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock as he was attempting to "beat" his way from Miami, Fla., to the home of his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Foster, wife of Oren J. Foster, in Newark, O., will be permitted by Juvenile Court authorities to complete his trip.

The youth was shabbily dressed when apprehended. He said he had been living with his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse N. Underwood, 528 N. West Fourteenth Ave., Miami, and hearing of his mother's illness, was "bumming" his way to Ohio.

Communication with Newark officials revealed the boy is a "chronic run-away." The youth said his mother lives at 140 E. North St., Newark. He told a story of devotion to his mother and the abuse of his step-mother. The boy will be supplied with money and will continue on the last stage of his trip by train. His ticket was purchased by Social Service League.

HOW OHIO FAMILIES SPEND

Average of Living Costs of 663 Homes in State. Whose Expenditures for One Year were Audited by U. S. Labor Department

Thirty-eight percent of the average family's income is set aside for food. More than any other single item of household expense.

These data are obtained from a study made by the U. S. Department of Labor. The Department audited all expenditures for one year of nearly 500 Ohio families. These budgets were then combined into an average which is accepted as roughly representative of the expenses of all Ohio families of moderate means.

The average Ohio budget shows an expenditure of sixteen percent for rent or shelter and fifteen percent for clothing. Fuel and light is an item that takes four percent while household furnishings represents an expenditure of six percent. For shelter, fuel and light and furnishings, therefore, the average family spends approximately twenty-six percent of its total income.

Under the heading "miscellaneous" the official budget report classes all other expenditures such as costs of illness, recreation, education and special expenses peculiar to individual families.

Money saved and invested also is included under the miscellaneous item. The Government's report shows that for major necessities the average Ohio family is compelled to expend seventy-nine percent of its total income.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

A Child's Laxative which Mothers Can Rely On

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold, indigestion or sour stomach. All children love its pleasant taste.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself how perfectly it cleanses and regulates the bowels of infants and children.—Adv.

CASH VALUE OF SUNDAY SCHOOL.

THE Pastor of a Chicago church declared in an address before a group of social workers, that his organization handled an average of three thousand children every year through its Sunday school activities, and at no time during the last 12 years had he ever been called into juvenile court because of the misdoings of one of those children, though he was a frequent visitor there in the interests of other children.

Yet that church is located in the ward which has the second highest juvenile delinquency rate of all the wards of the city.

Compare the cost of that one Sunday school with the cost of ten policemen and try to imagine any ten policemen keeping order among three thousand children for an entire year.

Good government depends upon an authority far more fundamental than force. If a child has no deep-seated moral conviction concerning obedience to law, respect for authority and the rights of others, no police system in the world can make a good citizen out of him by forcing him into good behavior.

The value of a Sunday school lies in the fact that it implants within the plastic mind of youth the principle of self-government—the principles by which he governs himself in accordance with propriety and good morals.

No amount of doctrinal teaching or denominational tenets will ever atone for the failure of a Sunday school to teach the children the high morality of respect for the rights of others.

Sunday school workers sometimes complain that they have no authority over their pupils as do the day schools. This, however, is their opportunity and their challenge. To stimulate a boy to want to do the right thing is better than to be able to compel him to be right.

The Sunday school which keeps children out of the toils of the law is not an expense but an economy in the community. Disband the Sunday schools and watch the court costs increase, watch the police forces enlarge, watch the penal institutions fill up.

Ever, Sunday school in the land is an institution of economy. It saves its own cost many times over in taxes that do not have to be paid.

WHAT IS "CRITICISM?"

THE dictionary definition of the word "criticize" is to discuss the merits or demerits of a thing or person. Under this philological definition of the word a criticism may be either favorable or adverse, and standing apart the word should carry no significance other than a passing of judgment.

How different is the thought conveyed to most persons on the mention of the word "criticize." Immediately they synonymize it with such terms as censure, animadversion and deprecation.

Morals may be deduced from all things animate or inanimate and there is a moral in the evolution of the word "criticism" for all. This evolution of a word tells a long story of universal and mutual fault-finding, censuring, mudslinging and—"criticizing." The art of "praising Caesar" is dead. It would probably be just as easy to get into the habit of saying nice things about our neighbors and fellow-men as it is to defame and depreciate them.

OUT OF REACH OF LIBRARIES.

THE American Library Association reports that 60,000,000 people in the United States are outside of the reach of collections of books for public circulation.

That more than half the people of the country should lack public library facilities will surprise many town dwellers who have had them at their disposal all their lives and have come to think of them as a necessity. Some will be shocked to think that a majority of their fellow-citizens are deprived of access to thousands of books.

Others will question if it is such a misfortune after all. When one considers the eminent men whose boyhood was spent amid rude and uncultured surroundings, who had only a few books—the Bible, Shakespeare's plays and "The Pilgrim's Progress," perhaps, and no others—and then set alongside of them men who in their youth had every educational advantage that great libraries could give, yet have failed to accomplish anything noteworthy, there is a temptation to conclude that access to a large collection of books is not so indispensable after all to making a success of life.

It may be an advantage not to have thousands of books at one's disposal. There is such a thing as reading too much. The country boys with a limited supply of literature who became great did much thinking and observation because they had little to read. Perhaps if they could have had all the books that they wanted they would not have exercised and developed their own minds by original thinking but would have been content to accept the opinions that they found already written.

Another thing that counteracts a tendency to pity the 60,000,000 who lack libraries is that the daily newspapers cover so wide a field that entertainment and education can be had without recourse to bound volumes. Articles on science and art, fiction and books in serial form, as well as the news, make the modern journal a literary work which satisfies the needs of many readers. And nobody, however remote he may be from a library, is entirely beyond the reach of the United States mails.

REACHING THE STATION AT LAST

1926 CROPS

1906-Twenty Years Ago-1926

Mr. Flemming Watt, student at Ohio State University, returned to Columbus after a visit of a couple of days at his home near Xenia.

Mr. Hugh McFadden has resigned his position as a barber at Wood and Mullin's and has taken up his headquarters at the Herr and Sutton shop at the National billiard parlor.

One branch of the Ohio Legislature passed a bill prohibiting the use of cigarettes as well as the sale of the article.

Mrs. L. Steinfeld, Cincinnati, is spending several weeks in Xenia the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schmidt. Washington's birthday will be celebrated at the rink with a masked carnival.

I of taking her place as a woman among other fearless women. She lost her chance to develop. She let fear rob her of that chance.

We have all met at least a few people who are afraid of life or afraid of death. Generally these people are people with little religion (Faith makes us see ourselves as but pilgrims on the way Home, doesn't it?) But a great number of people all about us are terrorized by a dread of being criticised, or timid about facing the social contacts.

"I love a little party of old friends" admitted one of my friends, "but I'm petrified when I have to meet a lot of strangers."

Fear again! The normal women is she who finds life comfortable, not uncomfortable. Have you ever noticed the difference between voices which answer a telephone? Some are ringing, fearless. Some come over the wire timidly—as if the person taking down the receiver were afraid that she might receive an invitation she didn't wish to accept, or might be asked to contribute money she could not afford, for some charity. I always experience a sense of respect for the woman who can take down her telephone receiver with a cheerful, not anxious "Hello!"

Of course there are some women who go too far and not only are too fearless—but indiscreet—but positively reckless. A guarded tongue is better than an unguarded one. But the housekeeper, who does her best in her work, has a right to hold up her head and look the world in the eye. A conscientious housekeeper is a woman to be respected and honored.

THE SELF-ASSURED HOUSE-KEEPER

One thing that calls forth my pity is the retiring, timid type of housekeeper—the type of woman who, through a lack of self-assurance, is not the power of her community which she was born to be (for we are each born with something to contribute to humanity.)

It is the old case of letting fear govern one. There are so many people in this world who never reach their full development—mental, spiritual, professional and social development—because they allow fear to hinder them.

Today's Talks

ON GETTING EVEN

You so often hear the statement made by various human beings: "I'll get even with him for that." Meaning, of course, that some injury, or advantage, or statement, must be matched by something of like nature that will bear down upon that one in stronger fashion than what has been received.

Nothing could be more foolish.

When you try to "get even" with one who has done you injury, you take a position much below that one. And you waste your time in doing so, too.

This is my favorite phrase, in such a case: "The dog barks but the caravan passes on!"

Help people, don't hurt them. Do you enjoy being hurt? Use your words and abilities for greater ends. Rise above the small man. Give him reason for following you, for catching your fine spirit and noble intentions.

Lincoln gave command to General Hooker in spite of his criticism and foolish words spoken against the policy of the government and worthy leaders.

Too many people pay attention to the "other fellow." Let the other fellow play his own game. Let him think his own thoughts and walk around on his own legs.

No man ever got even with someone else by going back at him in the same fashion in which he came at him.

Silence is a great commodity. There are times when it excels everything else in power.

How silent Nature is most of the time. What stories it tells—of struggle, of sacrifice, of patience, of leadership.

There are times when I feel that the great God talks in storms, in crowds, in the waves of sound that float out upon the atmosphere from some divinely strung instrument, in people who just look at you and pass waves of understanding—in flowers that bud and bloom, just to give out fragrance and beauty.

The best way to get even with somebody else is to say or do something that will make the other fellow sorry that he didn't say or do something to make you happy.

Just Folks

THOSE FIRST LONG TROUSERS

We went together, just as though together we must share the blow. Though she alone had gone before, we went together to the store. And watch him proudly try them on. And then our little boy was gone. Our little knickerbockered lad. Came out a youth, in trousers clad!

The smiling clerk said "Fine!" but oh. Our stab of pain he couldn't know. Perhaps he truly thought it strange. That mother didn't like the change. And felt that something in her died. The minute that she stepped inside. That little dressing room alone. But well I understood the moan.

She knew that "never more he'd be. The little boy upon her knee. The laughing, loving, roguish child. Whose kisses on her cheeks were piling. She knew what change was taking place.

Within that narrow dressing space. Her child went in beyond a doubt. But soon a man was coming out.

The clerk said "Fine!" but well I knew. The mother held a different view. The little lad she'd loved was gone. There stood a youth with trousers on; A youth, with shoulders broad and square. A youth who had a jaunty air. And when we left that clothing store. We had a little boy no more.

THE Bread and Butter Wife

By Violet Dare

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY LEE has gone to Atlantic City as public stenographer in a fashionable hotel after quarreling with

TOM PORTER, her husband of a year, who represents her working even though she does it in order that he may live more comfortably.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XXXVI—A PROPOSAL

THE warmth of David Stone's greeting quite swept Sally off her feet. It was late afternoon when he came up to the mezzanine floor where her desk was located, and Babette and already gone leaving Sally tapping away at her typewriter alone.

"Oh, my dear little child, why didn't you send for me before?" He took her hands in his and looked into her puzzled eyes.

"Don't you realize that I have always wanted you to come to me for help? Haven't I always been a good friend?"

Sally nodded, bewildered.

"Shall we go to dinner now, or would you rather wait long enough to dress up? We can go to one of the big restaurants and we'll have a chance to talk everything over there."

"I think I'd rather. It won't take but a few minutes."

"All right. I'll meet you in the lobby in about three-quarters of an hour."

Sally hurried to her room and got out the little lace dress that she had bought to wear when she went out with Jerome. She was delighted at having another chance to wear it, and yet she was puzzled by Mr. Stone's manner. He was so cordial—so intimate.

"Oh, what do you want anyway?" she asked her reflection as she looked into the mirror. "What has happened to my hair? It's not as good as it used to be. Aren't you satisfied?"

Yet a feeling almost of dread seized her as David Stone took her arm with a possessive air and led her to a little table in the far corner of a crowded restaurant.

"Now tell me all about it," he said as he finished giving elaborate orders to the waiter. "What has happened to my little girl? Haven't you been happy here?"

"At first," Sally nodded, striving to find words with which to express to him her doubts and troubles.

"It is so wonderful here and everyone has been so nice to me. I have never worked so little and been paid so well. But I feel uneasy. I don't feel that I'm getting anywhere. And I am, so lonely."

"You poor child."

"Oh, I suppose I should be happy. But I feel so alone. I thought when I came down here that it would be only for a little while—just as you said. As soon as my husband got on his feet I thought I could go back. But now—I can't."

Stone's eyes narrowed sternly as she spoke. Obviously, it was not what she expected.

"Would you go back to him, then, for all this?"

Sally shook her head determinedly.

"That's better. I thought not. Go on."

Something in his attitude made it hard for her to speak, but she went on hesitatingly.

"I wanted to branch out to do other things. It didn't seem as though my work here was leading anywhere. I tried being a fashion model—and oh they said such ugly things to me! Then I went to a party with Jerome—he had been so nice to me back at the hotel and I needed a friend so badly. But that was even worse. Oh why is everyone so rotten? I just want to work and get ahead and take care of myself."

"My dear, dear girl—is it possible you haven't understood all along what I wanted for you—planned for you? Couldn't you read my mind? I couldn't speak until there was a definite break between you and your husband?"

In her surprise, Sally was speechless.

"I've loved you ever since the day when you flung yourself at my feet and asked me to help you. But I had to wait until he was definitely out of your life. Sally, my dear, I love you. I can fix everything for you. My lawyer is at your service. He can get a divorce quickly, quietly and then we will be married. Oh, I have just been waiting for this day."

"Oh, but you don't understand."

"—I never thought of you that way. I never thought of divorce. I just wanted to ask you—"

Her words died down to a whisper. She couldn't tell him now what she had wanted to ask of him. Everything was changed.

"But what did you think I was doing everything for you for?" he asked sternly. "Do you think I was entirely disinterested when I sent you down here to loaf and be well paid for it, to have a beautiful room in this hotel?"

Angel distorted his face, and there were deep, ugly lines around his eyes.

"Oh, I'm a blind, silly little fool," Sally blurted out tearfully. "I see it all now. But when you were so good and kind I thought you just wanted to help me. I didn't realize what you were doing. Oh, this can't go on. I'm so sorry."

"Sorry?" Stone's tone was bitter. "Is that all you have to say to me?" Sally nodded. "And of course I'll leave my job here at once."

I've been a blind silly little fool.

COMMUNITY KITCHEN TO OPEN SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur English, proprietors of the Xenia Community Kitchen, Steele Building, 8 W. Main St., have announced their opening day for Saturday.

All kinds of food products will be sold at the new delicatessen. All are prepared by Mr. and Mrs. English who have had large experience in cooking and handling of food products.

Kitchen and salesroom have been completely remodeled and equipped with modern sanitary fixtures. Patrons of the new business opening day will be given a half pint of potato salad.

JAZZ WOULD HAVE PRE-NATAL INFLUENCE

Cincinnati, Feb. 5.—Believing that the strains of Jazz, if heard by expectant mothers would influence the character of new born babies, the Salvation Army here is suing to prevent the erection of a theater adjoining a maternity hospital.

The suit charges specifically that the theater music "would have an unfavorable effect upon expectant mothers and influence the character of their babies."

"We recognize," the petition says, "that we are living in a jazz age, but we object to imperiling the happiness of future generations by inculcating in them before they are even born, the madness that now rules the country."

COACH PRUGH BACK AFTER SICK ATTACK

Almost completely recovered from a serious attack of kidney trouble, Coach Earl Prugh, athletic director at Antioch College, Yellow Springs returned Thursday to the college after spending a week at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Cornwell, in London. He made the trip by motor, accompanied by his wife and son, Samuel.

Coach Prugh was taken suddenly ill at Ashland last Saturday where the Antioch basketball team played a game with Ashland College. He was then removed to his mother's home but his condition is now reported to be much improved.

LOSS OF GOD IS SAD SAYS EVANGELIST

"It is a sad thing to be without money, health or friends, but the greatest tragedy in this world is to be without God and die lost," declared the Rev. W. R. Cain, evangelist at the Nazarene Church, Thursday night.

"There are those who have once had God and know they have lost Him but it is sad to see those who have lost Him and not know it." He cited Biblical characters that were lost to God through sin and the workings of God for disobedience.

WINS PRIZE

Miss Virginia Cross, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cross, 317 W. Church St., and student in the eighth grade, Central Junior High, has been awarded $100, first prize in a "movie contest" conducted by a popular magazine.

Miss Cross won first prize in the first part of the contest and is a contestant for $500 offered as grand prize for the entrant obtaining the most subscriptions for the magazine running the contest.

Isn't Satisfied
With His New
Altitude Mark

Lieut. John Macready, recovering from effects of braving frigid heavens to make a new American altitude record of 35,900 feet, is preparing for another attempt to reach the 40,000 foot mark. Failure of the supercharger of his plane is blamed for his failure. He is seen in electrically-warmed suit he wore on the flight.

VESPER SERVICES WILL BE CONTINUED

Consistory of First Reformed Church voted to continue vesper services at the church each Sunday afternoon. Attendance and interest has been good, despite inclement weather, according to the Rev. D. A. Sellers, pastor.

This week a special service of song and praise will be given with selections by members of the choir. The pastor will give a fifteen-minute address on "The Fallen Champion."

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH

Jealous Women

YOU can't blame them. Beauty and health are given but they are difficult to keep. No wonder women guard them jealously. No wonder their mirrors reveal the furtive glances of the afraid. It is too bad that women do not realize that constipation's ruinous poisons undermine health, destroy beauty, sap vitality and sicken with headaches. But thank goodness, beauty and health may be safeguarded by safely, surely and permanently relieving constipation with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

No matter if constipation has become chronic, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will bring permanent relief. This is why: ALL-BRAN journeys through the body unchanged in fiber. It is what doctors call a bulk food. It is 100% bran and brings 100% results. As Kellogg's ALL-BRAN sweeps through the intestine, it cleans and purifies—stimulates the flow of digestive juices—absorbs and carries moisture. It causes a laggard intestine to function as nature intended.

Kellogg's
ALL-BRAN

The original ALL-BRAN—ready-to-eat

That's the splendid thing about the action of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—it promotes natural, healthy and regular elimination.

Eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream alone, or with fresh or preserved fruit—sprinkle over other cereals; cook with hot cereals; use in soups, or in the recipes on the package.

Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Don't accept a part-bran product, for it cannot do a whole-bran job. Chances are, it will do no good at all. Don't take chances. All grocers sell Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it.

JOHN THE BAPTIST HONORED IN SERMON BY ELINOR MILLAR

Speaking of John the Baptist Thursday night, Miss Elinor Millar, Australian Bible teacher, conducting evangelistic meetings at First M. E. Church, said: "Here is a man who came down to Zacharias and told him what this child's name would be. Every man named John ought to remember that his name came from Heaven."

"He was not a city man. He lived in the wilderness. He was rugged, shaggy-haired, clothed in coarse garments, with a leather girdle about him. Yet this country-bred man came out of the obscurity into the limelight as God's mighty prophet."

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

MACFADEN

Catarrh is a general term applied to acute or chronic inflammation of the mucous membrane, the distinguishing feature of which is a discharge of mucus ranging from a watery, innocuous condition to one of purulence and excessive decomposition. Practically any portion of the mucous membrane is liable to suffer from this disorder.

Catarrh may attack any portion of the body where mucous membrane exists. In fact the disease usually attacks the organ or portion of the body offering the most favorable outlet.

The upper portions of the respiratory apparatus of the body are found for the most part structures coated with delicate and sensitive membranes and it is at this point that catarrh usually makes its appearance.

Catarrh of the throat is usually an outcome or complication of nasal catarrh. The discharges fail to escape through the nostrils and are frequently expelled, apparently from the throat.

Chronic catarrh of any part of the body is treated in a very similar manner, as far as constitutional measures are concerned. The treatment of catarrh to effect a cure depends upon the elimination from the blood stream and tissues of the poisons, toxins and excess waste, which are the real cause of this particular complaint.

One of the most prominent causes of catarrh is the excessive clothing that is worn by civilized people, which half paralyzes the functions of the skin; consequently the pores are not capable of properly performing their duties. They do not do their share of the work of excretion. One rarely finds catarrh of any kind among savage tribes, or among those who wear little clothing. This would indicate that to a large extent it is caused by the clothing habit. The body wastes that are ordinarily eliminated through the pores are thrown back into circulation and must find some other means of outlet. The ordinary purifying channels seem to be unable to eliminate them completely, consequently they and these poisons discharged from the mucous membrane of various parts of the body. The blood-purifying process that must be the most prominent part of the treatment of catarrh should begin with a fast

MOVE STARTED TO SLICE 440 ACRES OFF VILLAGE LANDS

Yellow Springs village council will permit circulation of a petition asking that 440 acres of farm land within the corporate limits of the village be detached leaving but 400 acres actually in the town.

Petitions will be circulated among the freeholders of the 440 acres seeking the settlement on the proposal. Should the majority favor withdrawal, steps toward this end will be taken immediately. It is said. The papers will be circulated within two weeks.

Yellow Springs is composed of 840 acres, 440 of which are farm lands. If extensive improvements are contemplated, owners of farm lands within the village limits would be taxed on their unplatted grounds at the same rate as the owner of a town lot, who receives an income according to real estate values in platted districts.

PASTOR TO DISCUSS BURBANK CHARGES

The Rev. William H. Tilford, Presbyterian Church pastor, will discuss the much-published remarks of Luther Burbank, plant wizard, Sunday morning under the caption, "Is Burbank Right?"

Burbank's reported belief is different from that held by many in orthodox communities, according to the Rev. Mr. Tilford, who propounds the question—what shall parents tell their children about the first authority in such matters? Does the opinion of Burbank make any difference as to the final truth? What ought we believe?

These questions will be discussed in connection at the Sunday morning service, 10:30 o'clock.

MINISTER ACCEPTS CALL TO PASTORATE

Officials of Second U. P. Church have received word from the Rev. H. B. McElree, Indianapolis, Ia., who was given a call to the local pulpit, notifying them of his acceptance. The Rev. Mr. McElree and family will come to Xenia March 1 and take up their residence at the parsonage, W. Market St.

SEEK JOKER

Delmer Hook, attendant at the United Products Oil Co., filling station, S. Detroit St., at the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge, told police Friday someone threw a piece of coal through the window of the station as he opened up shortly after 6 o'clock Friday morning. Glass was broken and the missile narrowly missed Hook. Police believe the coal was thrown by a joker to frighten Hook and that it miscarried.

Young vigor to old folks

"I suffered after eating, troubled with torpid liver, constipation, had no energy, lost 30 pounds. After taking Tanlac I made 100 percent improvement and four bottles rid me of my troubles." J. E. Owen, 40 Clarendon Ave., Columbus, O.

One of Tanlac's greatest blessings is the new life and vigor it brings to old folks. Every day men and women up in the seventies and eighties thank us for Tanlac's wondrous benefits.
Tanalac is a natural tonic, made from roots, barks and rare herbs. Harmless to man or child. It cleans the blood, stirs up the liver and puts digestive organs in working order.
If your body is weak and run-down, if you lack ambition, can't eat or sleep, you'll be delighted with Tanlac's results. Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills for constipation.

ASK DONAHEY FOR MORE FINANCES FOR HOME MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

Due to insufficient funds, medical attention at the Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans' Home here, is deplorable, according to a resolution forwarded to Governor Vic Donahey Friday by F. W. Galbraith, Jr., Post, American Legion, Cincinnati.

Resolution passed unanimously at a recent post meeting asks Governor Donahey to consider the situation an emergency and provide $10,000 for immediate relief.

At a meeting of medical authorities and American Legion officials at the Home last Monday, cost of enlarging the medical department at the institution was estimated at $10,830, according to Colonel T. F. Andrews, superintendent. This amount will be requested from the state budget commission, he said, to supply medical needs of the Home until March 1, 1927, when the state legislature will convene to consider an enlarged appropriation for the Home medical work.

Amount needed by the institution.

COUNTY WILL ONLY ACQUIRE PART OF PROPOSED ACREAGE

County Commissioners are encountering difficulties in connection with extension of farming land of the Greene County Infirmary and Greene County Children's Home and it is learned that purchase of adjoining land can not be carried out on as great a scale as planned.

John Soward, acting for commissioners, recently purchased the 200-acre Moore-Putbaugh farm at public auction for about $20,000. The farm is situated one mile west of Xenia on the Dayton Pike.

Commissioners were advised the state budget law specifies no bonds aggregating more than $20,000 can be issued unless the proposition is submitted to a vote of the people.

Conforming with the law, Commissioners have authorized a $20,000 bond issue, the maximum amount.

This fund will cover the purchase of about 140 acres of the farm, it is believed.

Scale upon which the land will be divided between the institutions for purpose of increasing farming facilities, has not been decided.

In a resolution adopted by Commissioners, the bonds will first be offered to the board of trustees of the County Sinking Fund. Should they be rejected, public bids will be received. Maximum life of the bonds has been set at fifteen years. The bonds are serial and numbered from one to forty, each of $500 denomination.

ZIMMERMAN TELLS OF FLYING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hanes have received letters and newspaper clippings from their son Raymond Hanes, pilot on one of the J. W. Hunt air-planes which flew from Toledo to Florida, telling of their arrival in Florida and experiences during the trip which covered a week's time, owing to weather conditions, etc. At one place the two airplanes had to be dug out of the snow. On leaving Dothan, Ala., they followed the wrong railroad tracks for a guide to Tallahassee, Fla., and arrived at the town of Appalachicola near the bay, instead. There being no suitable landing place they had to fly into the "wilderness," as Hanes called it, and came down on a sand road, where two negroes told them they were twenty-six miles from the nearest town. The four men slept in the planes that night and the next day cut down the pine trees to clear a space large enough to enable the planes to take off. That night it was spent at a turpentine camp near by which was in charge of two white men and about fifty negroes. The next morning they flew to Tallahassee where they spent several days, later to fly to Lake City, and other points enroute to St. Petersburg, their destination. The two planes belong to J. W. Hunt, Dayton, O. The latter has a contract for six months' services in an advertising scheme for the Hawkeye Realty Company, St. Petersburg, Fla. Raymond writes that the climate is delightful, their reception most cordial, and folks anxious to take an airplane ride.

Harley Koogler and nephew, Homer Koogler were recent Sunday guests of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore, near Newport, Ky.

Andrew Belt and wife of near Beavertown attended services at this place Sunday, January 21, and were dinner guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bailey.

Clarence Snyder, wife and son, of Dayton, attended Sunday School and church at Zimmerman, January 21, and dined with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cyphers.

Whooping cough has cut down on the attendance at school at this place. Ethel and Emma Duncan, Ruth Stewart and Harold and Donald Bisher having the disease.

John Maxton, Jr., wife and two children were guests of their aunt, Mrs. D. Trubee and Mr. Trubee, Sunday. Mrs. Maxton and the children attended Sunday School and church here.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Koogler spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Breidenour near Vandalia.

The funeral of Miss Pearl Owen who died at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Helmer, Friday was held at the church here Monday afternoon in charge of Rev. Eldemiller. Three beautiful solos were sung by Mrs. Ralph Shoup and Mrs. Horace Brill. The floral pieces were beautiful. Interment was in Mt. Zion Cemetery. Miss Owen had been a sufferer for a number of years and had been very seriously and helplessly ill for weeks.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Helmer, two sisters, Mrs. Holverson of Xenia; Mrs. Carl Heckler, of Dayton; one brother Howard Owen, of Zimmerman and two half-brothers, Carl and Willard Helmer also of Zimmerman.

MODERN YOUTH NOT TO BLAME IS DECIDED

St. Louis, Feb. 5.—"Modern youth isn't so much to blame for the jazz age" as is the generation entrusted with the upbringing of the youths.

This was the general opinion expressed at an open forum on youth at the Temple Israel here. Among the things advanced about the jazz age were:

Parents and children cannot grasp the ideas advocated by the other.

If the older generation applies to the younger, means used thirty years ago, or if it satisfies every desire of youth, failure will be inevitable.

The safety of youth lies in its eagerness to challenge society and not be forced by elders into the mold of earlier days.

If a father and mother are what they should be, a child is certain to be what he should be.

Youth is imbued with an undue desire for immediate results, with being irreverent and with shifting respect for standards of morals.

AUTO DISAPPEARS BUT IS FOUND AGAIN

A "vanishing Ford coupe," stolen in Dayton Tuesday night and reported to police to have been abandoned on S. Monroe St., was later discovered on Kennedy St. after Patrolman Charles Thompson had searched vainly for the machine at the first address. It has been taken in charge by police.

The car was parked on Monroe St. a resident of the neighborhood reported. Patrolman Thompson went after the car and found no trace of it. He learned it was driven away by a boy. It was later found parked a few blocks away. Dayton police were notified.

OFFICER NAMED TO SUPERVISE FIELD

Appointment of Captain Edward M. George as construction quartermaster of the new Wilbur Wright air field being built near Fairfield, was confirmed at Washington, D. C., Thursday, dispatches stated. He received his orders of transfer Thursday and will arrive February 10.

Captain George succeeds the late Colonel E. S. Walton, who recently died of pneumonia at his home in Dayton.

Since the death of Colonel Walton, Lieutenant O. E. Cound, McCook Field, has been acting quartermaster. Captain George will be placed in complete charge of the building work. The field will cost $2,575,000 when completed. It is estimated. A total of $500,000 is already available for preliminary work and an additional million is asked in the deficiency bill now before congress.

Uses Resinol for boils

First application gives relief

Paintsville, Ky., June 30.—"I had five boils on my neck, and after reading of your treatment for them I used it as directed. I was very much surprised on waking the next morning to find that they were not a bit sore and the swelling was going down fast."

I will know the next time what to get when I have sores of this kind. I must say that your Resinol Soap is a wonder for cleansing the hands and face. I am a painter, and at the end of my day's work I use your soap. It makes my hands and face whiter than any other soap has been able to do so far." (Signed) Chester E. Vanhoose, 341 East Third St.

NEW MARSHAL NAMED AT YELLOW SPRINGS

George A. Baker, was appointed marshal of Yellow Springs by Mayor Thomas Donley Thursday to fill the unexpired term of W. E. Chapman, whose resignation was accepted by the village council at its last meeting. It is announced.

Chapman was elected marshal in November, 1925. He had been acting as traffic officer in Yellow Springs, appointed June 1, 1925, but resigned upon being elected marshal. He took office January 1, and resigned a month later after which he was immediately re-appointed traffic officer.

Mayor Donley and Traffic Officer Chapman declare observance of the laws in the village is showing a marked improvement but that strict enforcement of the traffic code will be continued.

ROSS TOWNSHIP

Little Billy Klontz is in a serious condition suffering from pneumonia. Mrs. Thurman Gorman was called to Springfield last week on account of illness of her mother, Mrs. Willette who suffered a paralytic stroke.

Mr. William Keplinger and wife of Jamestown spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. William Sheely.

Mr. Lester McDorman and family of Xenia spent Sunday with Mrs. Belle McDorman.

Mrs. Floyd Thorne has returned to her home off the Federal Pike and is preparing to have a public sale soon.

There were two trucks and one wagon did not reach the school building Thursday morning on account of drifts.

The Ross teams postponed their games with Caesar Creek last Friday evening which will be played some time this month.

Yellow Springs teams will meet Ross teams on Ross floor next Tuesday evening.

Grover Miller and wife spent Sunday with Mrs. Lucy Kidwell of South Solon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Hull of London spent Saturday with Mr. Thurman Gorman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pitstick of Cleveland were called here to attend the funeral of Mr. Floyd Thorne.

Miss Viola Pitstick went to Cincinnati, Monday to take up nursing at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Mrs. Carl Klontz an dtwo children spent a few days last week with friends in Dayton.

A 100 Bargains!
23rd Birthday!

The Rexall folks are pulling a NATIONAL BIRTHDAY PARTY during the month of February! To throw this party RIGHT so's to get EVERYONE in their stores, they selected a list of ONE HUNDRED articles such as Drugs, Chemicals, Food items, Brushes, Toiletries, Pharmaceuticals, Candles, Stationery and Rexall Remedies are and are putting a LOW MEAN PRICE on them so's you'll ALL be in! Watch for NEXT WEEK'S ANNOUNCEMENT!

50c For 39c!

A full sized 16 oz. Bottle of Rexall's Milk of Magnesia for 93c! Not more than three bottles to a customer. For Acid Stomach, indigestion, bowels and indigestion it is highly efficient!

Is the Price Too HIGH?

The Parke Davis Nebulizer sells for $1.50 and is positively the BEST atomizing device we ever saw for use with oils and sprays in nasal passages. Uses the LAST DROP! Is highly protected by patents and is different and better from anything you've ever used.

Candy Crabs!

Possibly rather foolish to use space in advertising these. They seem to sell themselves. They sell for 39c a lb. and we keep a FRESH SUPPLY in at all times.

I Wonder!

When the ole mind gets to "speculating" on that and this and I sorta draw the curtain over things I actually SEE and HEAR and let the MIND'S eye look about for itself, I "wonder" a lot of things. Frinstance:

If a cow could talk and sass back, what would her opinion be on these automatic "milkers" and "separators?"

I wonder!

What a St. Bernard's opinion is of a Pomeranian!

What the FIRST CHAP who ever ate a raw oyster looked like!

Why snowflakes have such PERFECT geometrical designs!

What will happen when Kaiser Bill dies and meets President Wilson—SOMEWHERE!

What makes garlic act like it does!

What the chap thought who discovered that a couple of sticks rubbed together would produce fire!

What a worm has that makes it interesting to a fish!

What a druggist here in town could do to make his store more interesting and of more REAL service to the community!

What YOU—the reader—the customer—have in YOUR "mind's eye!"

Shorty Says—
DOC. SAYRE.

If that's the best job of "wondering" that Doc can do, I sure am embarrassed for him. Mebbe he didn't arrange for enuf space with Mr. Beeler, the ad man.

The only BIG "wonder" I've got after carefully looking over the stuff Doc has writ is:

WHY has Doc NEVER been BIT by a squirrel and if he WAS bit by a squirrel, WHAT would BOTH of them THINK—if any!

It's blamed hard on me to even TRY to keep step with Doc the pace he sets some weeks!

Come in sometime—I'm in the Liniment Dept.—permanently I guess.

Doc Zeller Challenges The World!

Couple weeks ago Doc bought one of these YA-LO Football Games and has have so profitable and canny at it that he's a bit stuck up on the subject. He came in Wednesday and offered to bet any part of $3.50 against $1.48 that he could beat any player in town! (Speak to Jake about this!)

DONAHEY ASKED TO HOLD UP APPOINTMENT

GOVERNOR ASKED TO AWAIT REVELATIONS COMING FROM AKRON

Deplorable Condition At
Normal School Is Charged

Columbus, Feb. 5.—Promising "startling revelations" John B. Hanan, president of the Akron board of education in a telegram made public by Gov. Donahey today asked the governor to withhold appointment of a new president for Kent State Normal College pending investigation of charges against the Kent board of trustees.

The telegram received by the Governor Wednesday but withheld until today said:

"In view of startling revelations of deplorable condition on the board of trustees of the Kent Normal School which will be placed in your hands in a few hours, I implore you to use your influence to hold up any appointment of a new president until you have reviewed the important evidence."

The governor said he had received no further communication despite the fact the telegram was received Wednesday.

Dr. John McGilvrey was ousted recently as president of Kent. The board of trustees charged him with absconding with the school without authority and with promoting an "on to Europe" tour for students, which also was unauthorized. Since Dr. McGilvrey's dismissal T. Howard Winters has been acting president of the institution.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 5.—Apprized an investigation of the board of trustees of State Kent Normal College may be demanded, Dr. John E. McGilvrey, deposed president of Kent, in an interview with the United Press today denied the rumored inquiry was designed to obtain his reinstatement.

GROGER SHOT FOUR TIMES BY WOMAN

Urbana, O., Feb. 5.—Declaring he had threatened her with black mail, Mrs. Emma Goodbar, 34, of Lima, walked into the Loverde Grocery store here and shot Lawrence Loverde, 28, the proprietor, four times. Loverde is reported dying.

Mrs. Goodbar was taken into custody as she walked from the store clasp a pistol in her hand. In a statement to police she declared she and Loverde had been keeping company for two years.

She admitted, according to police that she is married, that her husband lives in Lima and that they have a son six years old.

Loverde was taken to a hospital. Physicians said he could not live.

EUROPE WARM AS STATES SHIVER

Spring Modes Blossom
In Warm Sun Of
Riviera

London, Feb. 5.—While America's eastern coast today labored with the aftermath of its worst winter storm, Europe was indulging in weather akin to spring.

London was foggy and some rain fell while the thermometer stood at 43.

Paris reported drizzly weather but even warmer than London, for its thermometers registered 54.

Brussels was rainy with a temperature of 51.

Berlin and Geneva reported foggy conditions with the temperature at the former city 45 and in the latter 40.

Monte Carlo basked in the sun of the Riviera and spring modes blossomed in the sixty degree warmth. Sofia, Cairo, Rome and Madrid reported cloudiness with temperatures ranging between 43 and 55.

NUN IS AWARDED PRIZE FOR HYMN

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Sister Mary of the Angels, a Chicago nun, has won the international contest for the text of an official hymn to be sung by the one-million pilgrims to the twenty-eighth International Eucharistic congress.

"The Nation's Consecration" is the title of the winning hymn, selected from more than 3,000 entries received from all over the world. A similar contest for music for Sister Mary's hymn was announced today. Entries close March 5.

WILL USE PRESSURE TO FORCE TAX BILL

Washington, Feb. 5.—Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, in charge of the $352,000,000 federal tax reduction bill, is prepared to begin tonight to apply the pressure of night sessions on opponents if no more progress is made on the bill today than yesterday.

"I should prefer not to resort to night sessions, but I promised the country the bill would be passed by the senate not later than Feb. 10," said Smoot. "That is next Wednesday, leaving only five working days, including today."

Smoot expects the fight over publicity of income tax returns to be over before recess is taken tonight, which would leave only one highly controversial point for disposition—inheritance and gift tax repeal or retention.

WOMAN IN PRISON SUED FOR DIVORCE

Springfield, O., Feb. 5.—Carey Strome, of New Carlisle has sued his wife, Mrs. Birdie Strome, 49, now serving a life sentence at Marysville, for the murder of her step-daughter, Esta, for divorce.

The petition is based on the plea that Mrs. Strome is in a penal institution facing life imprisonment.

Mrs. Strome was taken to Marysville Reformatory, Tuesday. She was convicted of administering strychnine to Esta.

WOMEN ORGANIZING TO OPPOSE WARD AND NATIONAL COMBINES

Meetings of Federated Societies To Take Up
War On Move

Columbus, Feb. 5.—Statewide rebellion of Ohio housewives against the two billion dollar Ward and National Food Products mergers in Wall Street, is imminent according to advices received from various sections to the United Press today.

First opposition to the mergers, which threatened to become general was expressed in Cleveland by Mrs. Evelyn P. Stires, vice president of the Cleveland Federated Women's Clubs, who denounced the mergers as "foul and a menace to the country."

From Miss Elizabeth E. McGee, executive secretary of the Consumers League of Ohio, now in session in Cleveland, came a similar protest.

The league will discuss the mergers sometime today, with a view of enlisting housewives in a state-wide campaign on protest.

Early reports from the Youngstown area, said the women there were preparing to join the anti-merger movement and will appeal to the Ohio Housewives League for support.

The Northwestern Conference of Parents-Teachers, meeting in Canton next Friday will be asked to oppose the mergers.

STATE WILL HELP
VICTIMS FAMILIES

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 5.—The families of the nineteen men killed in the explosion at the Morning mine of the Pittsburgh Terminal Company will receive allotments from the state with little delay, it was announced today as the compensation board began its session.

Thirty-one children were left fatherless by the blast.

More than twenty members of the rescue teams were overcome by black-damp and forced to leave the mine during the night.

They reported flames had gained headway and only the sealing of the wall would smother the fire.

The bodies of sixteen men are still entombed in mine No. 4.

SPANISH FLYER TO

Rio De Janeiro Feb. 5.—Commander Ramon Franco, Spanish trans-Atlantic flyer, decided today to hop off Tuesday on the final leg of his Spain-Buenos Aires flight.

He will spend Tuesday night in Montevideo, Uruguay—only an hour's flight from the Argentinian capital and then proceed Wednesday to his goal where a tremendous reception will be accorded him.

DEATH OF GRANDMOTHER NOT NEEDED AS EXCUSE FROM JURY DUTY OLD LAW REVEALS

Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—The Ohio businessman who pleaded his "grandmother was dead," and offered other equally transparent alibis when he wanted to avoid jury service, need no longer resort to antique broadsides.

All he needs do is become a "contributing member" of the Ohio National guard. This was discovered today in a perusal of state military code which specifies that men enlisting as contributing members of the national guard are automatically dismissed from jury service. By payment of a $5 enlistment fee, the prospective jury can remove himself from

Killits Charges Jury But
Witnesses Are Not
Summoned

(By United Press)
Cleveland, Feb. 5.—Although completely organized the federal grand jury which will investigate charges of jury tampering in connection with the trials of Josiah Kirby, former head of the Cleveland Discount Co., will not begin hearing evidence until Monday.

All yesterday was spent in seating the grand jury and it was expected the first 300 witnesses called in the inquiry would be heard, but federal Judge John M. Killits demurred, ordering consideration of evidence begin Monday.

The first witnesses called Monday will be the venire of Kirby's first federal trial. The jury drawn from this panel failed to agree. Following these, members of the second venire, the jury from which convicted Kirby, will be summoned.

In his charge to the grand jurors, Judge Killits said six men whose names were known to the government, merited indictment. As the inquiry progresses, he said, others may be implicated.

Four men, including two attorneys, have been arrested in connection with the inquiry. A woman also is under bond as a material witness.

Kirby meanwhile is in jail awaiting sentence on charges of using the mails to defraud.

"Kirby will not be sentenced until this investigation, is out of the way," Judge Killits declared.

BEER AND WINE TO SEEK OFFICE Candidates With Wet Names On Illinois Ballot

Chicago, Feb. 5.—"Mr. Beer" and "Mr. Wine" will run for congressmen at large from Illinois if a plan proposed by Chicago Democrats is carried out.

Two candidates with the names of "Beer" and "Wine" actually are preparing to enter the congressional race, A. J. Cormack, president of the county board and a leading Democratic politician disclosed. He declined to give the full names of the prospective candidates.

"Candidates with such popular names are sure winners in Illinois," Cormack said. "We have investigated these men and found them honest and secure."

Chicago's telephone book lists seven men by the name of "Beer" and four "Mr. Wines."

DROP GAYETY FOR MOURNING VEIL

Cinema Stars Revel And
Then Pay Tribute
Dead

Hollywood, Calif., Feb. 5.—All night long Hollywood's film colony danced and made merry at the annual ball of the "Wampas"—the press agents who make stars by their tricks or their artistry.

Then with hardly more than time to exchange the tinsel gaiety for the black of mourning, filmdom made a final pilgrimage to the bier of Barbara La Marr and saw the "girl who was too beautiful to live" buried in the shadow of the studios.

Few such evenings of gaiety have been seen as was that at the "Wampas Ball" and few such solemn tributes have been paid here as those given at the funeral of Miss La Marr who died Saturday.

Friends from the studios so crowded the little chapel that there was no room for the general public—those who had admired Miss La Marr not in the flesh but as a shadow on the screen.

Miss La Marr rested on a golden, velvet bier.

In her hand was a single red rose from a little girl admirer and with it a note which read:

"To my beautiful lady, Barbara whom I longed to meet. May my life be as lovely and unselfish as yours."

On her breast, were orchids from Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks.

The funeral services were brief and simple as had been planned by Miss La Marr before she died. A prayer was said and the Christian Science burial service read. A girl, who asked that she be known "just as a girl friend of Barbara's" sang "Eternity."

Bert Lytell, Alfred Green, Tom Gallery, Henry Hathaway and Victor R. D. Knickerbocker, all of Hollywood's film colony acted as pallbearers.

Marshal Seeking Secret
lage

Newburgh Heights, Ohio, Feb. 5.—Two separate and distinct police forces are trailing down Newburgh's crooks, etc., but Mayor John C. Tegg today could only find one, so he ordered force No. 1, consisting of Marshal Albert Horadzowski to start a still hunt for force No. 2.

Thus far Mayor Tegg's investigation has disclosed he has a police force of eighty men but all the eighty appear to be secret service operatives, so secret in fact, that Tegg doesn't know who they are and what is more, he can't find out.

"There's only one way to identify these secret police," Tegg said. "They've all got deputy marshal badges issued by the last administration."

DISASTER FOLLOWS BLIZZARD THAT HIT EASTERN SEABOARD

Shipping Imperilled As
Storm Finally Spreads
Fury

(By United Press)
New York, Feb. 5.—The terrific storm which for twenty-four hours whipped the eastern seaboard from Georgia to Maine, is passing out to sea, leaving in its wake death and distress.

Although the fury of the blizzard is spent, coastal shipping still is imperilled, hundreds of cities and villages are banked with snow, and continued cold causes acute discomfort along the north Atlantic. Close to thirty deaths are attributed to the storm. Of these eight came at sea when towering waves assailed three helpless barges. Nine persons died from accident and exposure in the metropolitan area and several others in nearby districts.

Eight workmen died and eleven were injured when a factory building at New Britain, Conn., collapsed from the weight of snow on its roof.

Several epics of the sea were written as coast guards and volunteers rescued those aboard craft left to the mercy of the waves.

Three men were snatched from death a moment before a barge gave way at Ashbury Park, N. J., two of them only to die on the way to shore.

After an hour-long fight eight officers and men were taken from the schooner Kenwood which foundered with a heavy load of lumber near Boston.

Along the coast from New Jersey to Maine, many vessels have weighed anchor and are riding out the storm. The Pollock rip lightship in Nanucket Sound is reported ashore on Beres Land. No further distress signal was received at Halifax from the rudderless, frozen freighter, Manchester Producer which hourly awaits the arrival of the steamer Comino, far out in the Atlantic.

Throughout Pennsylvania and New York State heavy snows are reported. Sixteen inches of snow fell at Scranton, adding to the distress of the region affected by the anthracite strike.

Twelve adrift on water logged ship

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—Within fifty miles of this port, the water logged lumber schooner Ecola in tow of the oil tanker Captain A. F. Lucas parted its hawser today and is lost in heavy seas.

Advice that the Ecola with twelve men and one woman aboard, broke loose just when its difficult and weak seemed ended, was radioed to the Federal Telegraph Co., here from the Lucas.

The seagoing tug the Sea Ranger which rushed to the Ecola's assistance Tuesday, also is cruising around with the Captain of the Lucas seeking the lost schooner. A heavy fog is hampering the search.

EIGHT KILLED WHEN ROOF COLLAPSES

New Britain, Conn., Feb. 5.—Crushed in the ruins when the roof of the foundry of the North and Judith Co., collapsed from the weight of snow on it, eight men were dead and eleven were in the New Britain General Hospital, several seriously injured and one critically injured.

One other workman, who was in the building at the time of the crash and who had been reported missing was found today assisting rescuers who had dug through the night searching for him.

VILLAGE SUFFERS
DISASTROUS FIRE

Moscow, Ohio, Feb. 5.—The valor of the citizens here and farmers from the surrounding countryside, probably saved Moscow from destruction by fire during the night.

Before their efforts were rewarded, the plant of the R. F. Johnson Colored Card Company, was destroyed with an estimated loss of $100,000 leaving sixty persons jobless. The blaze originated in a closet under a stairway. Volunteers under Mayor Harry Shriver, fought the flames and were soon joined by several farmers, who, seeing the blaze from their farms, hastened to town.

COLORADO SHOES FOR THE MALE FLAPPERS

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Male flappers will go in for colored shoes this spring with a nude shade taking first honors, shoe dealers here announced. The nude shade has been brought out in California and Florida and by spring will have invaded the rest of the country, the dealers claim.

Outing shoes trimmed in red and green also will be in vogue, according to the forecast.

WEALTHY FROM REALTY DEAL, FORMER GREENE COUNTY WOMAN SPURNS SILKS

Although she won a fortune of $100,000 in speculation in Florida real estate, Mrs. Jessie Barber Dawes, formerly of Cedarville and Springfield, will continue her work as head of the domestic science department of the Malden, Mass., public schools. Eighteen months ago Mrs. Dawes and her husband, Dr. F. E. Dawes, Boston dentist, who she married twelve years ago, each bought six lots with $11,000 which she had saved from her earnings as teacher and secretary. The new Miami-Biltmore Hotel was constructed on one side of these lots and the $15,000,000 University of Miami buildings were built nearby.

Millionaires have tried to buy Mrs. Dawes' holdings but she held the land until this week when she closed a deal by telegraph selling the land for approximately $100,000 profit. Her husband has been equally successful and the couple have drawn wills by which their property will pass at their deaths to the Salvation Army for a girl's home to be built near Boston.

Mrs. Dawes was born Jessie Barber in Cedarville and with her family went to Springfield in 1893. She graduated from Wittenberg College, as bachelor of arts, from Columbia University as bachelor of science; from Bridgewater normal school in Massachusetts and from a special course at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Her home is at Wollaston, Mass., on the shores of Massachusetts Bay. She arises at 6 o'clock, prepares breakfast, and makes the journey of fourteen miles by trolley to Malden to be on hand at the opening of high school at 8 o'clock. She also teaches three nights a week in the Malden evening schools. Through her savings and investments she also owns real estate at Nantucket Beach, Wollaston, Quincy and Bryantville, Mass.

Starting their married life a dozen years ago with a combined capital of $10,000 as a result of combined savings, Dr. and Mrs. Dawes now have acquired a fortune.

"No silk stockings for me," Mrs. Dawes says, in spite of her wealth. "I never owned a pair and don't want to. I like hard work. I have missed only three days from my teaching in my nineteen years in New England and that was when my mother died. I shall continue to teach at least until the close of the present school year. As to the future I want to own an island in Miami harbor and perhaps I shall anyway. I'm going to Miami as soon as school closes, but I shall continue to make my home in Wollaston."

Dr. Dawes is prominent as a yachtsman and his speedboat, "Letha," is one of the fastest on the coast. He is a past president of the Yacht Racing Union of New England. Mrs. Dawes taught school in New York, Revere and Bingham, Mass., before going to Malden.

SIX SAXOPHONES TO FEATURE SHOW HERE

Saxophone sextet will be another interlude of "The Lady in Blue," American Legion musical comedy to be presented at City Hall Theater, February 17 and 18. Sextette will be composed of Guy Pillsbury, Don Weaver, Don Currie, Victor Weaver, Herbert Wheeler and Vernon Hickman.

Nightly rehearsals of the show cast

are held at American Legion headquarters, Kingsbury Building. Fifty people will take part in the show, including principals and choruses.

Scenery for the show is being designed by George Swartz.

Broadcasting scene, one of the main features of the show, was arranged and is being directed by John Sutton and Robert Owens. Costumes are in charge of Mrs. Winifred Mason and Miss Fern Jack will direct music for the piece.

John Edwards, of Lancaster, Pa., dreamed he was in swimming and dived from the foot of his bed through a pane of glass to a porch roof, rolling to the ground where he woke up, only only slightly hurt.

Yes, sir!
that's my buddy!

TROUBLE'S a bubble, just as the song says. And you can stick it with the stem of your old jimmy-pipe . . . packed to the brim with Prince Albert. Friendly, fragrant Prince Albert. Cool, comfortable Prince Albert. A pal in the pinches . . . a cheer-leader when you're on top.

Pipe-peevs vanish in a P. A. smoke-screen. Problems go up in smoke. Cool and sweet and fragrant, P. A. sifts into your system and pins a big red rose on the workaday world. Tobacco with a real mission in life . . . to make you pipe-happy and keep you that way!

And listen to this: P. A. can't nip your tongue or parch your throat! Because—the Prince Albert process put a padlock on tongue-torture right at the start; gave Bite and Parch the gate in the beginning . . . and they've never been back!

Men who thought they never could smoke a pipe have tried again with Prince Albert . . . and stuck! Go and do you likewise. There's a friendly shop nearby where they hand out P. A. sunshine in tidy red tins. Take the shortest cut. Step lively! Your tobacco troubles will then be over for all time.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

YOUTH "BUMS" TRIP FROM FLORIDA TO MOTHER IN NEWARK

Basil Underwood, 14, intercepted by Railroad Police Lieutenant Bussmyer on an eastbound Pennsylvania freight train Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock as he was attempting to "beat" his way from Miami, Fla., to the home of his mother, Mrs. Gertrude Foster, wife of Oren J. Foster, in Newark, O., will be permitted by Juvenile Court authorities to complete his trip.

The youth was shabbily dressed when apprehended. He said he had been living with his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse N. Underwood, 528 N. West Fourteenth Ave., Miami, and hearing of his mother's illness, was "bumming" his way to Ohio.

Communication with Newark officials revealed the boy is a "chronic run-away."

The youth said his mother lives at 140 E. North St., Newark. He told a story of devotion to his mother and the abuse of his step-mother. The boy will be supplied with money and will continue on the last stage of his trip by train. His ticket was purchased by Social Service League.

OHIO AT WORK

HOW OHIO FAMILIES SPEND

Average of Living Costs of 663 Homes in State. Whose Expenditures for One Year were Audited by U. S. Labor Department

Thirty-eight percent of the average family's income is set the table for food. More than any other single item of household expense.

These data are obtained from a study made by the U. S. Department of Labor. The Department audited all expenditures for one year of nearly 500 Ohio families. These budgets were then combined into an average which is accepted as roughly representative of the expenses of all Ohio families of moderate means.

The average Ohio budget shows an expenditure of sixteen percent for rent or shelter and fifteen percent for clothing. Fuel and light is an item that takes four percent while household furnishings represents an expenditure of six percent. For shelter, fuel and light and furnishings, therefore, the average family spends approximately twenty-six percent of its total income.

Under the heading "miscellaneous" the official budget report classes all other expenditures such as costs of illness, recreation, education and special expenses peculiar to individual families.

Money saved and invested also is included under the miscellaneous item. The Government's report shows that for major necessities the average Ohio family is compelled to expend seventy-nine percent of its total income.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 63

A Child's Laxative which Mothers Can Rely On

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative, which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold, indigestion or sour stomach. All children love its pleasant taste. Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself how perfectly it cleanses and regulates the bowels of infants and children.—Adv.

CASH VALUE OF SUNDAY SCHOOL.

THE Pastor of a Chicago church declared in an address before a group of social workers, that his organization handled an average of three thousand children every year through its Sunday school activities, and at no time during the last 12 years had he ever been called into juvenile court because of the misdoings of one of those children, though he was a frequent visitor there in the interests of other children.

Yet that church is located in the ward which has the second highest juvenile delinquency rate of all the wards of the city.

Compare the cost of that one Sunday school with the cost of ten policemen and try to imagine any ten policemen keeping order among three thousand children for an entire year.

Good government depends upon an authority far more fundamental than force. If a child has no deep-seated moral conviction concerning obedience to law, respect for authority and the rights of others, no police system in the world can make a good citizen out of him by forcing him into good behavior.

The value of a Sunday school lies in the fact that it implants within the plastic mind of youth the principle of self-government—the principles by which he governs himself in accordance with propriety and good morals.

No amount of doctrinal teaching or denominational tenets will ever atone for the failure of a Sunday school to teach the children the high morality of respect for the rights of others.

Sunday school workers sometimes complain that they have no authority over their pupils as do the day schools. This, however, is their opportunity and their challenge. To stimulate a boy to want to do the right thing is better than to be able to compel him to be right.

The Sunday school which keeps children out of the toils of the law is not an expense but an economy in the community. Disband the Sunday schools and watch the court costs increase, watch the police forces enlarge, watch the penal institutions fill up.

Ever, Sunday school in the land is an institution of economy. It saves its own cost many times over in taxes that do not have to be paid.

WHAT IS "CRITICISM?"

THE dictionary definition of the word "criticize" is to discuss the merits or demerits of a thing or person. Under this philological definition of the word a criticism may be either favorable or adverse, and standing apart the word should carry no significance other than a passing of judgment.

How different is the thought conveyed to most persons on the mention of the word "criticize." Immediately they synonymize it with such terms as censure, animadversion and deprecation.

Morals may be deduced from all things animate or inanimate and there is a moral in the evolution of the word "criticism" for all. This evolution of a word tells a long story of universal and mutual fault-finding, censuring, mudslinging and—"criticizing." The art of "praising Caesar" is dead. It would probably be just as easy to get into the habit of saying nice things about our neighbors and fellow-men as it is to defame and depreciate them.

OUT OF REACH OF LIBRARIES.

THE American Library Association reports that 60,000,000 people in the United States are outside of the reach of collections of books for public circulation.

That more than half the people of the country should lack public library facilities will surprise many town dwellers who have had them at their disposal all their lives and have come to think of them as a necessity. Some will be shocked to think that a majority of their fellow-citizens are deprived of access to thousands of books.

Others will question if it is such a misfortune after all. When one considers the eminent men whose boyhood was spent amid rude and uncultured surroundings, who had only a few books—the Bible, Shakespeare's plays and "The Pilgrim's Progress," perhaps, and no others—and then set alongside of them men who in their youth had every educational advantage that great libraries could give, yet have failed to accomplish anything noteworthy, there is a temptation to conclude that access to a large collection of books is not so indispensable after all to making a success of life.

It may be an advantage not to have thousands of books at one's disposal. There is such a thing as reading too much. The country boys with a limited supply of literature who became great did much thinking and observation because they had little to read. Perhaps if they could have had all the books that they wanted they would not have exercised and developed their own minds by original thinking but would have been content to accept the opinions that they found already written.

Another thing that counteracts a tendency to pity the 60,000,000 who lack libraries is that the daily newspapers cover so wide a field that entertainment and education can be had without recourse to bound volumes. Articles on science and art, fiction and books in serial form, as well as the news, make the modern journal a literary work which satisfies the needs of many readers. And nobody, however remote he may be from a library, is entirely beyond the reach of the United States mails.

REACHING THE STATION AT LAST

1906-Twenty Years Ago-1926

Mr. Flemming Watt, student at Ohio State University, returned to Columbus after a visit of a couple of days at his home near Xenia.

Mrs. L. Steinfelds, Cincinnati, is spending several weeks in Xenia the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schmidt. Washington's birthday will be celebrated at the rink with a masked carnival.

One branch of the Ohio Legislature passed a bill prohibiting the use of cigarettes as well as the sale of the article.

Mrs. L. Steinfelds, Cincinnati, is spending several weeks in Xenia the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schmidt. Washington's birthday will be celebrated at the rink with a masked carnival.

of taking her place as a woman among other fearless women. She lost her chance to develop. She let fear rob her of that chance.

We have all met at least a few people who are afraid of life or afraid of death. Generally these people are people with little religion (Faith makes us see ourselves as just pilgrims on the way Home, doesn't it?) But a great number of people all about us are terrorized by a dread of being criticised, or timid about facing the social contacts.

"I love a little party of old friends," admitted one of my friends, "but I'm petrified when I have to meet a lot of strangers."

Fear again! The normal women is she who finds life comfortable, not uncomfortable. Have you ever noticed the difference between voices which answer a telephone? Some are ringing, fearless. Some come over the wire timidly—as if the person taking down the receiver were afraid that she might receive an invitation she didn't wish to accept, or might be asked to contribute money she could not afford, for some charity. I always experience a sense of respect for the woman who can take down her telephone receiver with a cheerful, not anxious "Hello!"

Of course there are some women who go too far and not only are too fearless—too indiscreet—but positively reckless. A guarded tongue is better than an unguarded one. But the housekeeper, who does her best in her work, has a right to hold up her head and look the world in the eye. A conscientious housekeeper is a woman to be respected and honored.

THE SELF-ASSURED HOUSE-KEEPER

One thing that calls forth my pity is the retiring, timid type of housekeeper—the type of woman who, through a lack of self-assurance, is not the power of her community which she was born to be (for we are each born with something to contribute to humanity.)

It is the old case of letting fear govern one. There are so many people in this world who never reach their full development—mental, spiritual, professional and social development—because they allow fear to hinder them.

"My club asked me to read a paper on Thomas Hardy," wrote one of my friends who lives a distance from me, "but I was afraid I'd make a terrible bungle of it, so I refused."

What a pity! I happen to know that this friend is particularly well fitted to write a paper on Hardy. She has not only read most of his novels, but has also travelled through the "Hardy country" in England. She has much to give—and refused to! It was not only selfish in her to refuse, but self-harmful. By refusing she admitted to her community that she was afraid. Her fellow club members will now classify her among that great army of nonentities as one who is incapable

ON GETTING EVEN

You so often hear the statement made by various human beings: "I'll get even with him for that." Meaning, of course, that some injury, or advantage, or statement, must be matched by something of like nature that will bear down upon that one in stronger fashion than what has been received.

Nothing could be more foolish.

When you try to "get even" with one who has done you injury, you take a position much below that one. And you waste your time in doing so, too.

This is my favorite phrase, in such a case: "The dog barks but the caravan passes on!"

Help people, don't hurt them. Do you enjoy being hurt? Use your words and abilities for greater ends. Rise above the small man. Give him reason for following you, for catching your fine spirit and noble intentions.

Lincoln gave command to General Hooker in spite of his criticism and foolish words spoken against the policy of the government and worthy leaders.

Too many people pay attention to the "other fellow." Let the other fellow play his own game. Let him think his own thoughts and walk around on his own legs.

No man ever got even with somebody else by going back at him in the same fashion in which he came at him.

Silence is a great commodity. There are times when it excels everything else in power.

How silent Nature is most of the time. What stories it tells—of struggle, of sacrifice, of patience, of leadership.

There are times when I feel that the great God talks in storms, in crowds, in the waves of sound that float out upon the atmosphere from some divinely strung instrument, in people who just look at you and pass waves of understanding—in flowers that bud and bloom, just to give out fragrance and beauty.

The best way to get even with somebody else is to say or do something that will make the other fellow sorry that he didn't say or do something to make you happy.

Just Folks
BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THOSE FIRST LONG TROUSERS

We went together, just as though Together we must share the blow. Though she alone had gone before, We Went together to the store And watch him proudly try them on. And then our little boy was gone. Our little knickerbockered lad Came out a youth, in trousers clad!

The smiling clerk said "Fine!" but oh, Our stab of pain he couldn't know. Perhaps he truly thought it strange That mother didn't like the change And felt that something in her died The minute that she stepped inside That little dressing room alone. But well I understood the moan.

She knew that never more he'd be The little boy upon her knee, The laughing, loving, roguish child Whose kisses on her cheeks were piled. She knew what change was taking place Within that narrow dressing space. Her child went in beyond a doubt, But soon a man was coming out.

The clerk said "Fine!" but well I knew The mother held a different view. The little lad she'd loved was gone. There stood a youth with trousers on. A youth, with shoulders broad and square, A youth who had a jaunty air, And when we left that clothing store We had a little boy no more.

Contains no quinine or opiates. Millions use "Pape's Cold Compound." Price, thirty-five cents. Druggists guarantee it.—Adv.

THE Bread and Butter Wife
By Violet Dare

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY LEE has gone to Atlantic City as public stenographer in a fashionable hotel after quarreling with

TOM PORTER, her husband of a year, who resents her working even though she does it in order that he may live more comfortably.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XXXVI—A PROPOSAL

THE warmth of David Stone's greeting quite swept Sally off her feet. It was late afternoon when he came up to the mezzanine floor where her desk was located, and Babette had already gone leaving Sally tapping away at her typewriter alone.

"Oh, my dear little child, why didn't you send for me before?" He took her hands in his and looked into her puzzled eyes.

"Don't you realize that I have always wanted you to come to me for help? Haven't I always been a good friend?"

Sally nodded, bewildered.

"Shall we go to dinner now, or would you rather wait long enough to dress up? We can go to one of the big restaurants and we'll have a chance to talk everything over there."

"I think I'd rather. It won't take but a few minutes."

"All right. I'll meet you in the lobby—say in about three-quarters of an hour."

Sally hurried to her room and got out the little lace dress that she had bought to wear when she went out with Jerome. She was delighted at having another chance to wear it, and yet she was puzzled by Mr. Stone's manner. He was so cordial—so intimate.

"Oh what do you want anyway?" she asked her reflection as she gazed at her hair in place. "No matter what people do you aren't satisfied."

Yet a feeling almost of dread seized her as David Stone took her arm with a possessive air and led her to a little table in the far corner of a crowded restaurant.

"Now tell me all about it," he said as he finished giving elaborate orders to the waiter. "What has happened to my little girl? Haven't you been happy here?"

"At first," Sally nodded, striving to find words with which to express to him her doubts and troubles.

"It is so wonderful here and everyone has been so nice to me. I have never worked so little and been paid so well. But I feel uneasy. I don't feel that I'm getting anywhere. And I am so lonely."

"You poor child."

"Oh, I suppose I should be happy. But I feel so alone. I thought when I came down here that it would be only for a little while—just as you said. As soon as my husband got on his feet I thought I could go back. But now—I can't."

Stone's eyes narrowed sternly as she spoke. Obviously, it was not what she expected.

"Would you go back to him, then, after all this?"

Sally shook her head determinedly.

"That's better. I thought not. Go on."

Something in his attitude made it hard for her to speak, but she went on hesitatingly.

"I wanted to branch out to do other things. It didn't seem as though my work here was leading anywhere. I tried being a fashion model—and oh they said such ugly things to me! Then I went to a party with Jerome—he had been so nice to me back at the hotel and I needed a friend so badly. But that was even worse. Oh why is everyone so rotten? I just want to work and get ahead and take care of myself."

"My dear, dear girl—is it possible you haven't understood all along what I wanted for you—planned for you? Couldn't you read my mind? I couldn't speak until there was a definite break between you and your husband?"

In her surprise, Sally was speechless.

"I've loved you ever since the day when you flung yourself at my feet and asked me to help you. But I had to wait until he was definitely out of your life. Sally, my dear, I love you. I can fix everything for you. My lawyer is at your service. He can get a divorce quietly, quickly and then we will be married. Oh, I have just been waiting for this day."

"Oh, but you don't understand."

Sally paused, aghast.

"I—I never thought of you that way. I never thought of divorce. I just wanted to ask you—"

Her words died down to a whisper. She couldn't tell him now what she had wanted to ask of him. Everything was changed.

"But what did you think I was doing everything for you for?" he asked sternly. "Do you think I was entirely disinterested when I sent you down here to loaf and be well paid for it, to have a beautiful room in this hotel?"

Anger distorted his face, and there were deep, ugly lines around his eyes.

"Oh, I'm a blind, silly little fool," Sally blurted out tearfully. "I see it all now. But when you were so good and kind I thought you just wanted to help me. I didn't realize what you were doing. Oh, this can't go on. I'm so sorry."

"Sorry!" Stone's tone was bitter. "Is that all you have to say to me?"

Sally nodded. "And of course I'll leave my job here at once."

Monday—Beginning Anew.

COMMUNITY KITCHEN TO OPEN SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur English, proprietors of the Xenia Community Kitchen, Steele Building, 8 W. Main St., have announced their opening day for Saturday.

All kinds of food products will be sold at the new delicatessen. All are prepared by Mr. and Mrs. English who have had large experience in cooking and handling of food products.

Kitchen and salesroom have been completely remodeled and equipped with modern sanitary fixtures. Patrons of the new business opening day will be given a half pint of potato salad.

JAZZ WOULD HAVE PRE-NATAL INFLUENCE

Cincinnati, Feb. 5.—Believing that the strains of jazz, if heard by expectant mothers would influence the character of new born babies, the Salvation Army here is suing to prevent the erection of a theater adjoining a maternity hospital.

The suit charges specifically that the theater music "would have an unfavorable effect upon expectant mothers and influence the character of their babies."

"We recognize," the petition says, "that we are living in a jazz age, but we object to imperiling the happiness of future generations by incalculating in them before they are even born, the madness that now rules the country."

COACH PRUGH BACK AFTER SICK ATTACK

Almost completely recovered from a serious attack of kidney trouble, Coach Earl Prugh, athletic director at Antioch College, Yellow Springs returned Thursday to the college after spending a week at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Cornwell, in London. He made the trip by motor, accompanied by his wife and son, Samuel.

Coach Prugh was taken suddenly ill at Ashland last Saturday where the Antioch basketball team played a game with Ashland College. He was then removed to his mother's home but his condition is now reported to be much improved.

LOSS OF GOD IS SAD SAYS EVANGELIST

"It is a sad thing to be without money, health or friends, but the greatest tragedy in this world is to be without God and die lost," declared the Rev. W. R. Cain, evangelist at the Nazarene Church, Thursday night.

"There are those who have once had God and know they have lost Him but it is sad to see those who have lost Him and not know it." He cited Biblical characters that were lost to God through sin and the workings of God for disobedience.

WINS PRIZE

Miss Virginia Cross, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cross, 317 W. Church St., and student in the eighth grade, Central Junior High, has been awarded $100, first prize in a "movie contest" conducted by a popular magazine.

Miss Cross won first prize in the first part of the contest and is a contestant for $500 offered as grand prize for the entrant obtaining the most subscriptions for the magazine running the contest.

*Isn't Satisfied
With His New
Altitude Mark*

Lieut. John Macready, recovering from effects of braving frigid heavens to make a new American altitude record of 35,900 feet, is preparing for another attempt to reach the 40,000 foot mark. Failure of the supercharger of his plane is blamed for his failure. He is seen in electrically-warmed suit he wore on the flight.

VESPER SERVICES WILL BE CONTINUED

Consistory of First Reformed Church voted to continue vesper services at the church each Sunday afternoon. Attendance and interest has been good, despite inclement weather, according to the Rev. D. A. Sellers, pastor.

This week a special service of song and praise will be given with selections by members of the choir. The pastor will give a fifteen-minute address on "The Fallen Champion."

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH

Jealous Women

YOU can't blame them. Beauty and health are given but they are difficult to keep. No wonder women guard them jealously. No wonder their mirrors reveal the furtive glances of the afraid. It is too bad that women do not realize that constipation's ruinous poisons undermine health, destroy beauty, sap vitality and sicken with headaches. But thank goodness, beauty and health may be safeguarded by safely, surely and permanently relieving constipation with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

No matter if constipation has become chronic, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will bring permanent relief. This is why: ALL-BRAN journeys through the body unchanged in fiber. It is what doctors call a bulk food. It is 100% bran and brings 100% results. As Kellogg's ALL-BRAN sweeps through the intestine, it cleans and purifies—stimulates the flow of digestive juices—absorbs and carries moisture. It causes a sluggish intestine to function as nature intended.

That's the splendid thing about the action of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—it promotes natural, healthy and regular elimination.

Eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—in chronic cases, with every meal. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream alone, or with fresh or preserved fruit—sprinkle over other cereals; cook with hot cereals; use in soups, or in the recipes on the package.

Be sure you get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Don't accept a part-bran product, for it cannot do a whole-bran job. Chances are, it will do no good at all. Don't take chances. All grocers sell Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it.

JOHN THE BAPTIST HONORED IN SERMON BY ELINOR MILLAR

Speaking of John the Baptist Thursday night, Miss Elinor Millar, Australian Bible teacher, conducting evangelistic meetings at First M. E. Church, said: "Here is a man who got his name from Heaven. An angel came down to Zacharias and told him what this child's name would be. Every man named John ought to remember that his name came from Heaven."

"He was not a city man. He lived in the wilderness. He was rugged, shaggy-haired, clothed in coarse garments, with a leather girdle about him. Yet this country-bred man came out of the obscurity into the limelight as God's mighty prophet."

Church auditorium was well filled for Miss Millar's message. She gave out more Testaments to boys and girls and taught the audience the Pocket Testament League's song, printed in the pocket editions. R. A. Stillings sang a solo and the Rev. J. W. Patton, Yellow Springs Methodist Church, offered prayer.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

BERNARR
MACFADDEN

Catarrh is a general term applied to acute or chronic inflammation of the mucous membrane, the distinguishing feature of which is a discharge of mucus ranging from a watery, innocuous condition to one of purulency and excessive decomposition. Practically any portion of the mucous membrane is liable to suffer from the disorder.

Catarrh may attack any portion of the body where mucous membrane exists. In fact the disease usually attacks the organ or portion of the body offering the most favorable outlet.

The upper portions of the respiratory apparatus of the body are found for the most part structures coated with delicate and sensitive membranes and it is at this point that catarrh usually makes its appearance.

Catarrh of the throat is usually an outcome or complication of nasal catarrh. The discharges fail to escape through the nostrils are frequently expelled, apparently from the throat.

Chronic catarrh of any part of the body is treated in a very similar manner, as far as constitutional measures are concerned. The treatment of catarrh to effect a cure depends upon the elimination from the blood stream and tissues of the poisons, toxins and excess waste, which are the real cause of this particular complaint.

One of the most prominent causes of catarrh is the excessive clothing that is worn by civilized people, which half paralyzes the functions of the skin; consequently the pores are not capable of properly performing their duties. They do not do their share of the work of elimination. One rarely finds catarrh of any kind among savage tribes, or among those who wear little clothing. This would indicate that to a large extent it is caused by the clothing habit. The body wastes that are ordinarily eliminated through the pores are thrown back into the circulation, and must find some other means of outlet. The ordinary purifying channels seem to be unable to eliminate them completely, consequently we find these poisons discharged from the mucous membrane of various parts of the body. The blood-purifying process that must be the most prominent part of the treatment of catarrh should begin with a fast

Yellow Springs village council will permit circulation of a petition asking that 440 acres of farm land within the corporate limits of the village be detached leaving but 400 acres actually in the town.

Petitions will be circulated among the freeholders of the 440 acres seeking sentiment on the proposal. Should the majority favor withdrawal, steps toward this end will be taken immediately, it is said. The papers will be circulated within two weeks.

Yellow Springs is composed of 440 acres, 440 of which are farm lands. If extensive improvements are contemplated, owners of farm lands within the village limits would be taxed on their unplatted grounds at the same rate as the owner of a town lot, who receives an income according to real estate values in platted districts.

PASTOR TO DISCUSS BURBANK CHARGES

The Rev. William H. Tilford, Presbyterian Church pastor, will discuss the much-published remarks of Luther Burbank, plant wizard, Sunday morning under the caption, "Is Burbank Right?"

Burbank's reported belief is different from that held by many in orthodox communions, according to the Rev. Mr. Tilford, who propounds the question—what shall parents tell their children about the final authority in such matters? Does the opinion of Burbank make any difference as to the final truth? What ought we believe?

These questions will be discussed in connection at the Sunday morning service, 10:30 o'clock.

FORTIFY YOURSELF AGAINST THEM

It is estimated that a sufferer from colds loses three days' time from work every year.

At church, in the "movie," or at any entertainment, if your neighbor has a cold and sneezes or coughs, the air is full of germs and if you are not in good condition, you may become ill. The only sure protection your body can have is blood in good condition. Take that splendid herbal tonic

MINISTER ACCEPTS CALL TO PASTORATE

Officials of Second U. P. Church have received word from the Rev. H. B. McElree, Indianapolis, Ind., who was given a call to the local pulpit, notifying them of his acceptance.

The Rev. Mr. McElree and family will come to Xenia March 1 and take up their residence at the parsonage, W. Market St.

SEEK JOKER

Delmer Hook, attendant at the United Products Oil Co., filling station, S. Detroit St., at the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge, told police Friday someone threw a piece of coal through the window of the station as he opened up shortly after 6 o'clock Friday morning. Glass was broken and the missile narrowly missed Hook. Police believe the coal was thrown by a joker to frighten Hook and that it miscarried.

Young vigor to old folks

"I suffered after eating, troubled with torpid liver, constipation, had no energy, lost 30 pounds. After taking Tanlac I made 100 percent increase in weight and four bottles rid me of my troubles." J. E. Owen, 40 Clarendon Ave., Columbus, O.

One of Tanlac's greatest blessings is the new life and vigor it brings to old folks. Every day men and women up in the seventies and eighties thank us for Tanlac's wondrous benefits.

Tanlac is a natural tonic, made from roots, herbs and rare herbs. Harmless to man or child. It cleans the blood, stirs up the liver and puts digestive organs in working order.

If your body is weak and run-down, if you lack ambition, can't eat or sleep, you'll be delighted with Tanlac's results. Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills for constipation.

ASK DONAHEY FOR MORE FINANCES FOR HOME MEDICAL DEPARTMENT

Due to insufficient funds, medical attention at the Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans' Home here, is deplorable, according to a resolution forwarded to Governor Vic Donahey Friday by F. W. Galbraith, Jr., Post, American Legion, Cincinnati.

Resolution passed unanimously at a recent post meeting asks Governor Donahey to consider the situation an emergency and provide $10,000 for immediate relief.

At a meeting of medical authorities and American Legion officials at the Home last Monday, cost of enlarging the medical department at the institution was estimated at $10,830, according to Colonel T. F. Andrews, superintendent. This amount will be requested from the state budget commission, he said, to supply medical needs of the Home until March 1, 1927, when the state legislature will convene to consider an enlarged appropriation for the Home medical work.

Amount needed by the institution,

COUNTY WILL ONLY ACQUIRE PART OF PROPOSED ACREAGE

County Commissioners are encountering difficulties in connection with extension of farming land of the Greene County Infirmary and Greene County Children's Home and it is learned that purchase of adjoining land cannot be carried out on as great a scale as planned.

John Soward, acting for commissioners, recently purchased the 200-acre Moore-Butterbaugh farm at public auction for $20,000. The farm is situated one mile west of Xenia on the Dayton Pike.

Commissioners were advised the state budget law specifies no bonds aggregating more than $20,000 can be issued unless the proposition is submitted to a vote of the people.

Conforming with the law, Commissioners have authorized a $20,000 bond issue, the maximum amount.

This fund will cover the purchase of about 140 acres of the farm, it is believed.

Scale upon which the land will be divided between the institutions for purpose of increasing farming facilities, has not been decided.

In a resolution adopted by Commissioners the bonds will first be offered to the board of trustees of the County Sinking Fund. Should they be rejected, public bids will be received. Maximum life of the bonds has been set at fifteen years. The bonds are serial and numbered from one to forty, each of $500 denomination.

ZIMMERMAN TELLS OF FLYING TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hanes have received letters and newspaper clippings from their son Raymond Hanes, pilot on one of the J. W. Hunt airplanes, which flew from Toledo to Florida, telling of their arrival in Florida and experiences during the trip which covered a week's time, owing to weather conditions, etc. At one place the two airplanes had to be dug out of the snow. On leaving Dothan, Ala., they followed the wrong railroad tracks for a guide to Tallahassee, Fla., and arrived at the town of Appalachicola near the bay, in stead. There being no suitable landing place they had to fly into the "wilderness," as Hanes called it, and came down on a sand road, where two negroes told them they were twenty-six miles from the nearest town. The four men slept in the planes that night and the next day cut down the pine trees to clear a space large enough to enable the planes to take off. That night it was spent at a turpentine camp near by, which was in charge of two white men and about fifty negroes. The next morning they flew to Tallahassee where they spent several days, later to fly to Lake City, and other points enroute to St. Petersburg, their destination. The two planes belong to J. W. Hunt, Dayton, O. The latter has a contract for six months' services in an advertising scheme for the Hawkeye Realty Company, St. Petersburg, Fla. Raymond writes that the climate is delightful, their reception most cordial, and folks anxious to take an airplane ride.

Harley Koogler and nephew, Homer Koogler were recent Sunday guests of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore, near Newport, Ky.

Andrew Belt and wife of near Beavertown attended services at this place Sunday, January 21, and were dinner guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bailey.

Clarence Snyder, wife and son, of Dayton, attended Sunday School and church at Zimmerman, January 21, and dined with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cyphers.

Whooping cough has cut down on the attendance at school at this place. Ethel and Emma Duncan, Ruth Stewart and Harold and Donald Bisher having the disease.

John Maxton, Jr., wife and two children were guests of their aunt, Mrs. D. Trubee and Mr. Trubee, Sunday. Mrs. Maxton and the children attended Sunday School and church here.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Koogler spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Breidenour near Vandalia.

The funeral of Miss Pearl Owea who died at the home of her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Helmer, Friday was held at the church here Monday afternoon in charge of Rev. Eldemiller. Three beautiful solos were sung by Mrs. Ralph Shoup and Mrs. Horace Brill. The floral pieces were beautiful. Interment was in Mt. Zion Cemetery.

Miss Owea had been a sufferer for a number of years and had been very seriously and helplessly ill for weeks.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Helmer, two sisters, Mrs. Holverson of Xenia; Mrs. Carl Heckler, of Dayton; one brother Howard Owen, of Zimmerman and two half-brothers, Carl and Willard Helmer also of Zimmerman.

MODERN YOUTH NOT TO BLAME IS DECIDED

St. Louis, Feb. 5.—"Modern youth isn't so much to blame for the jazz age" as is the generation entrusted with the upbringing of the youths.

This was the general opinion expressed at an open forum on youth at the Temple Israel here.

Among the things advanced about the jazz age were:

Parents and children cannot grasp the ideas advocated by the other.

If the older generation applies to the younger, means used thirty years ago, or if it satisfies every desire of youth, failure will be inevitable.

The safety of youth lies in its eagerness to challenge society and not be forced by elders into the mold of earlier days.

If a father and mother are what they should be, a child is certain to be what he should be.

Youth is imbued with an undue desire for immediate results, with being irreverent and with shifting respect for standards of morals.

AUTO DISAPPEARS BUT IS FOUND AGAIN

A "vanishing Ford coupe," stolen in Dayton Tuesday night and reported to police to have been abandoned on S. Monroe St., was later discovered on Kennedy St. after Patrolman Charles Thompson had searched vainly for the machine at the first address. It has been taken in charge by police.

The car was parked on Monroe St. a resident of the neighborhood reported. Patrolman Thompson went after the car and found no trace of it. He learned it was driven away by a boy. It was later found parked a few blocks away. Dayton police were notified.

OFFICER NAMED TO SUPERVISE FIELD

Appointment of Captain Edward M. George as construction quartermaster of the new Wilbur Wright air field being built near Fairfield, was confirmed at Washington, D. C., Thursday, dispatches stated. He received his orders of transfer Thursday and will arrive February 10.

Captain George succeeds the late Colonel E. S. Walton, who recently died of pneumonia at his home in Dayton.

Since the death of Colonel Walton, Lieutenant O. E. Cound, McCook Field, has been acting quartermaster.

Captain George will be placed in complete charge of the building work. The field will cost $2,500,000 when completed, it is estimated. A total of $500,000 is already available for preliminary work and an additional million is asked in the deficiency bill now before congress.

Uses Resinol for boils

First application gives relief

Paintsville, Ky., June 30:—"I had five boils on my neck, and after reading of your treatment for them I used it as directed. I was very much surprised on waking the next morning to find that they were not a bit sore and the swelling was going down fast. I will know the next time what to get when I have sores of this kind. I must say that your Resinol Soap is a wonder for cleansing the hands and face. I am a painter, and at the end of my day's work I use your soap. It makes my hands and face whiter than any other soap has been able to do so far." (Signed) Chester E. Vanhoushe, 341 East Third St.

OVERRIDE MOVE FOR NEW WILL CASE TRIAL

Defendants' motion for a new trial in the case of Daniel Montjoy against W. S. Rogers and others, in Common Pleas Court, has been overruled. A jury verdict in the case favored the plaintiff when it was decided papers purporting to be the last will of the decedent introduced in court, were found not to be the last testament.

CONFESSES JUDGMENT

Harry E. Frahn, mayor of Osborn, and defendant in the suit instituted in Common Pleas court by The Crumrine Brick Co., has confessed judgment for $287.67 due the plaintiff on account.

JAMESTOWN FLORAL COMPANY IS SOLD

Jamestown Floral Co., east of Jamestown on the Washington Pike, has been purchased by John Q. Ross and Jesse Hardy, Jamestown. L. C. Adsit, former owner, has moved to Greenfield, where he recently purchased greenhouses of his brother, D. E. Adsit.

Both Mr. Ross and Mr. Hardy have had experience in greenhouse work. William Sheeley, who purchased the Adsit greenhouse several months ago, was unable to take charge of the business and the stock and buildings were purchased by Ross and Hardy.

The Rexall folks are pulling a NATIONAL BIRTHDAY PARTY during the month of February! To throw this party RIGHT so's to get EVERYONE in their stores, they selected a list of ONE HUNDRED articles such as Drugs, Chemicals, Food items, Brushes, Toiletries, Pharmaceuticals, Candles, Stationery and Rexall Remedies and are putting a LOW MEAN PRICE on them so's you'll ALL be in! Watch for NEXT WEEK'S ANNOUNCEMENT!

50c For 39c!

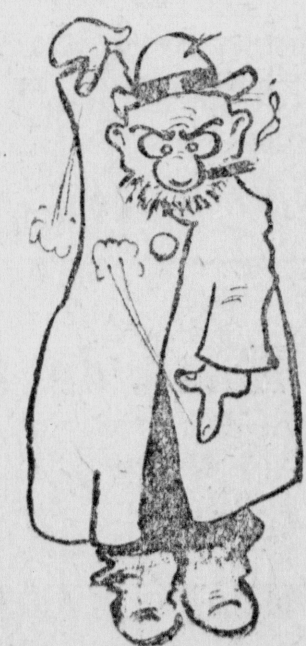

A full sized 16 oz. Bottle of Rexall's Milk of Magnesia for 93c! Not more than three bottles to a customer. For Acid Stomach, Indifferent bowels and indigestion it is highly efficient!

Is the Price Too HIGH?

The Parke Davis Nebulizer sells for $1.50 and is positively the BEST atomizing device we ever saw for use with oils and sprays in nasal passages. Uses the LAST DROP! Is highly protected by patents and is different and better from anything you've ever used.

Candy Crabs!

Possibly rather foolish to use space in advertising these. They seem to sell themselves. They sell for 39c a lb. and we keep a FRESH SUPPLY in at all times.

NEW MARSHAL NAMED AT YELLOW SPRINGS

George A. Baker, was appointed marshal of Yellow Springs by Mayor Thomas Donley Thursday to fill the unexpired term of W. E. Chapman, whose resignation was accepted by the village council at its last meeting, it is announced.

Chapman was elected marshal in November, 1925. He had been acting as traffic officer in Yellow Springs, appointed June 1, 1925, but resigned upon being elected marshal. He took office January 1, and resigned a month later after which he was immediately re-appointed traffic officer.

Mayor Donley and Traffic Officer Chapman declare observance of the laws in the village is showing a marked improvement but that strict enforcement of the traffic code will be continued.

ROSS TOWNSHIP

Little Billy Klontz is in a serious condition suffering from pneumonia.

Mrs. Thurman Gorman was called to Springfield last week on account of illness of her mother, Mrs. Willette who suffered a paralytic stroke.

Mr. William Keplinger and wife of Jamestown spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. William Sheely.

Mr. Lester McDorman and family of Xenia spent Sunday with Mrs. Belle McDorman.

Mrs. Floyd Thorne has returned to her home off the Federal Pike and is preparing to have a public sale soon.

There were two trucks and one wagon did not reach the school building Thursday morning on account of drifts.

The Ross teams postponed their games with Casarcreek last Friday evening which will be played some time this month.

Yellow Springs teams will meet Ross teams on Ross floor next Tuesday evening.

Grover Miller and wife spent Sunday with Mrs. Lucy Kidwell of South Solon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Hull of London spent Saturday with Mr. Thurman Gorman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pitstick of Cleveland were called here to attend the funeral of Mr. Floyd Thorne.

Miss Viola Pitstick went to Cincinnati, Monday to take up nursing at the Good Samaritan Hospital. Mrs. Carl Klontz and two children spent a few days last week with friends in Dayton.

Doc Zeller Challenges The World!

Couple weeks ago Doc bought one of these YA-LO Football Games and has become so proficient and canny at it that he's a bit stuck up on the subject. He came in Wednesday and offered to bet any part of $3.50 against $1.48 that he could beat any player in town! (Speak to Jake about this!)

We're Going to QUIT!

We've decided that if you folks LIKE to have a COUGH or a COLD that it's really rather rude of us trying to influence you to CURE them. Why should we try and take away any of your pets? We DO HAVE, however, the following items for sale: Cherry Bark (large) 50c; Riker's Mentholated White Pine Tar, 25c; Bromo-Quinine, 30c; Hill's Cascara 30c; Rexall's Cold Special 25c.

Shorty Says:
DOC SAYRE.
If that's the best job of "wondering" that Doc can do, I sure am embarrassed for him. Mebbe he didn't arrange for enuf space with Mr. Beeler, the ad man.
The only BIG "wonder" I've got after carefully looking over the stuff Doc has writ is:
WHY has Doc NEVER been BIT by a squirrel and if he WAS bit by a squirrel, WHAT would BOTH of them THINK—if any!
It's blamed hard on me to even TRY to keep step with Doc the pace he sets some weeks!
Come in sometime—I'm in the Liniment Dept.—permanently I guess.

FARMERS MAKE YOUR PUBLIC SALE THE BIGGEST EVER

Here Are Five Reasons For These Papers' Superiority As Farm Sale
Advertising Mediums

BECAUSE—The automobile has made the roadside poster a thing of the past.

BECAUSE—Hundreds of Greene County farmers have tried our sale advertising methods and have found them the most successful and satisfactory they have ever used.

BECAUSE—It is the most economical method of advertising because it includes display advertising, first page publicity and hand bills, all offered at a combination rate that gives you a worthwhile saving.

BECAUSE—By using these papers you tell thousands of people about your sale and what you have to offer.

BECAUSE—Not one cent of your outlay for advertising ever goes for any but tried and proven methods of advertising. Our system has been perfected after years of experience.
